

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

PREFACE.

THE Chicago Relief and Aid Society having been constituted the almoner of the great Fund contributed to alleviate the sufferings of the people rendered homeless and destitute by the disastrous fire which laid waste the fairest sections of our city, is led by sacred considerations to make a full, and we hope, useful report of the manner in which this trust has been discharged.

Those who bore large share in these contributions have frequently and urgently expressed the wish that such a report might in due time be published, and that in view of the possibility of a similar calamity befalling other parts of the world, the experiences and agencies found valuable and efficient by this Society should be embodied in some permanent form.

The sympathy of mankind, and its fruit of charity, were not wholly unlooked for in the time of our unprecedented need, yet so instant and world-wide were these, that they came as a revelation of neighborly helpfulness, causing surprise not only to the stricken thousands who were the grateful recipients, but to all mankind.

To indicate in some measure this sympathy and charity, letters and telegrams of earliest dates are here embodied, representative in their character, received from all sections of our own and distant lands, and from all classes of persons, alike the humblest and most distinguished.

It is impossible in the nature of the case to account for all the merchandise, provisions, and other supplies sent within the few days immediately succeeding the fire, and which were doubtless received and efficiently disbursed, but without permanent, and in most cases without any account having been taken of their source or distribution.

It is quite possible also that many letters and telegrams did not reach the proper authorities or the persons for whom intended, by reason of the derangement of the postal and telegraph service.

It is not possible in this report to account for moneys or merchandise sent to other charitable societies, or to individuals, and concerning which this Society has no knowledge. It is believed, however, that these first contributions, of which no account can ever be rendered, reached the objects and wrought the great and immediate good intended.

In the survey of such various materials at command, and wholly without precedent in their use, we confess to the great distrust with which we undertake the performance of this task. We can only assure the philanthropic world of the purpose of this Society to express the gratitude of the community which it represents; to render in some measure a service to civilization, as well as to perform an obvious duty.

CHAPTER I.

TOPOGRAPHY OF CHICAGO.

THE conflagration of Chicago, October the 8th and 9th, 1871, in the amount of property destroyed, and the number of people rendered homeless and dependent, is without parallel in the history of ancient or modern times. In order to show how it was possible that such a fire could occur, it is deemed necessary to give some account of the topography and physical conditions of the city, and so much of its history as will indicate its rapid growth and hasty construction.

Chicago, the chief city of Illinois and of the Northwestern States, is situated on Lake Michigan, at the mouth of the Chicago River, eighteen miles north of the extreme southerly point of the lake, and has an elevation of six hundred feet above the ocean. On the west of the city is a wide expanse of prairie, on the south and north is timber, making the precise point of Chicago an opening or sort of funnel through which the adverse winds of prairie and lake sweep over the city. The Chicago River affords the only good harbor on the west side of the lake near its southern extremity, and to this fact is due the natural fitness of this site for a mart of commerce, and primarily its chief importance. The city is located on both sides of this river; a sluggish stream originally of the nature of a lagoon, and which at a point three-quarters of a mile from its mouth is formed by the junction of two branches, one flowing from the northwest, and the other from the southwest.

The city is thus divided into three natural parts. The South Side, as it is called, includes the territory east of the South Branch and south of the main river. The North Side embraces the area east of the North Branch and north of the river. The West Side is that part of the city west of the two branches.

The United States Government established a military post at this point in 1804, which was destroyed in 1812. It was rebuilt in 1816, and continued to be garrisoned till 1837. During these years Fort Dearborn served as a resting-place for emigrants passing to the west, and a hamlet slowly clustered about it, which took the name of Chicago.

In 1831 Cook County was organized, and in 1832 the total tax list of the county was returned by the sheriff at $148,222.

In the spring of 1833 Congress made an appropriation of $30,000, for improving the harbor; a post-office was established; and in the month of August of the same year Chicago was incorporated as a town.

The following are the statistics of the corporation for this year: —

Area of the town, about	560 acres.
Number of inhabitants	550
Number of voters	29
Number of buildings	175
Valuation of property	$60,000.00
Valuation of taxable property	$19,560.00
First year's taxes	$48.90

In 1834 the poll list had increased to one hundred and eleven, and a loan for sixty dollars was negotiated for the opening and improvement of streets.

The construction of the Illinois and Michigan Canal, which was begun in 1836 and completed in 1848, and by which the chain of the great northern lakes was united to the waters of the Mississippi River, made Chicago the entrepôt of this water traffic, and constituted the first memorable impulse in the growth of the city.

The first charter of the City of Chicago was passed by the Legislature, and approved March 4, 1837, and the first election was held under this charter on the first of May following.

The first census was taken in the following July, and the population was shown to be four thousand one hundred and seventy-nine souls. In this year the city contained four warehouses, three hundred and ninety-eight dwellings, twenty-nine drug stores, nineteen provision stores, ten taverns, twenty-six groceries, five churches.

In 1839 three thousand cattle were driven in from the prairies, slaughtered, packed, and shipped, and thus began one of the chief branches of business here largely controlled, and one which has contributed to the rapid increase of the city's population and wealth.

In the same year the first shipment of wheat, amounting to one thousand six hundred and seventy-six bushels, was sent from this port, which is now the world's chief market for bread-stuffs and provisions.

The following table shows the increase of population from the time Chicago was incorporated as a city in 1837 to 1871.

POPULATION.

Year.	Population.	Year.	Population.
1837	4,179	1854	65,872

1842	6,590	1859	90,000
1843	7,580	1860	109,263
1844	8,000	1861	120,000
1845	12,088	1862	137,030
1846	14,169	1863	150,000
1847	16,859	1864	161,288

1850	28,269	1867	220,000
1851	34,000	1868	242,383
1852	38,734	1870	298,977
1853	60,662	1871	334,270

During these years of rapid growth and prosperity, the history of the city becomes so complex that it is unnecessary, for our purposes, to trace it further, except in the most comprehensive form.

The method of communication between the three sections of the city up to a recent time had been a system of bridges upon turn-tables or pivots, thrown across the river at intervals of two blocks, the average width of which is about two hundred feet. Vessels are usually towed up and down the river by steam-tugs, and these bridges were necessarily an impediment to navigation, and not less serious impediment to vehicles and pedestrians. Therefore some different method of communication became a necessity.

And in 1869 a tunnel was built at Washington Street, arched for two hundred and ninety feet, by which an uninterrupted communication was established between the South and West divisions; the tunnel having a double roadway for vehicles, and a twelve feet passage for pedestrians. In September, 1871, a tunnel of much better construction was completed, under the line of Lasalle Street, establishing similar communication between the North and South sides of the city.

The streets of Chicago were laid out on a liberal plan and at right angles, with sidewalks ten feet wide, and usually with grass plats, and shrubbery separating these from the ample space remaining for vehicles in the centre.

In the year 1870 the city occupied a space of six miles long and about three miles wide; houses dotted the lake shore, however, from its southern boundary to Hyde Park, and from its northern boundary to Lake View, in all a distance of more than ten miles.

To some extent Chicago had begun to tear away the buildings at first constructed for the homes of the people and the demands of traffic, and which were, for the most part, small, unsightly, and insecurely built. Other structures of enduring material, convenience of arrangement, grandness of proportion, and architectural ornamentation, were being rapidly erected in their stead.

But side by side with these were the wooden and inflammable buildings which at first sprang up by the necessities of the case, and gave to the city a unique and in some instances an almost grotesque appearance. Within the limits of the burnt district alone there were nearly thirty miles of pine sidewalks.

The most massive buildings, though constructed mainly of imperishable materials, as it was supposed, had joists, partitions, floorings, cornices, door and window frames of wood, and only the smallest number of the largest warehouses had iron shutters. The river winding through the entire length of the city, and through the very heart of it, was lined with immense lumber yards, coal yards, planing mills, sash factories, and various other combustible materials.

The commerce of the city had been necessarily occupied, as it seemed, in providing only for its instant and temporary demands. And the public authorities had fallen in with what seemed to be the necessities of the case, and provided mainly for these commercial interests rather than for the permanent security of the homes and property of the people. Thus the topographical and physical conditions of the city, together with the character of its structures and improvements, rendered it peculiarly exposed to an overwhelming catastrophe.

During the days when Chicago was being wasted by the flames, the devouring elements were making similar havoc in other parts of the country. In the lumber regions of Wisconsin, Michigan, and Minnesota, the fires were laying bare thousands of acres of timber land, and destroying every organic substance on a vast range of improved land in these States. Fires were occurring at the same time in the Rocky Mountain region, California, Nevada, Kansas, Missouri, Indiana, Pennsylvania, and New York. Over the whole region of the Northwest the autumn had been without rains, and indeed, for twenty-four months, the country had not been visited by the usual drenching storms, and the earth, the trees, and the dwellings were baked to a crisp.

These features grouped together, but in brief outline, may indicate the conditions which made possible the conflagration which swept out of existence the accumulations of years, and rendered homeless thousands of people. A complete theory of the fire is not intended to be sought, but must be left among the desiderata in speculative and scientific research.

CHAPTER II.

AN ACCOUNT OF THE FIRE.

THE imagination is the only faculty of the human mind equal to any comprehension of the appalling night when Chicago was in flames.

During the continuance of the fire, a driving gale of wind was surging up from the southwest, and the increasing magnitude of the conflagration, from hour to hour, caused a mingled sense of terror and despair.

From the pine tenements of its origin, the fire swept into the central quarter of the city, compactly built, mostly of brick, stone, and iron ; and thence, into the heart of that section containing the most palatial residences, and onward until it laid waste one entire section of the city.

As the fire raged, the number of homeless people became greater and greater, and possessed by fright many were inapt in expedients of self-preservation.

Many sought temporary abodes for themselves and their effects, in the hospitable homes of their near neighbors. But the hope of security here was soon surrendered, and those who had been but mere spectators of their neighbors' calamities, were now panic-stricken householders, engaged in taking care of themselves, their families, and their property, until thousands together were fleeing west, north, and south, in consternation and frequently in despair of saving life.

And thus the streets were filled with an indescribable mass of fugitives, forcing their way through the stifling clouds of dust, smoke, and cinders, and the confusion and utter chaos of the night — a night lurid with flames, the reflection of which, in itself, gave to the countenances of these fleeing thousands an awe-stricken and almost unearthly aspect. The hissing and crackling of the flames, and the deafening roar of the gale, the pelting cinders and brands, and the crumbling of material, gave tragic coloring to the scene, and leaves the night memorable in the minds of those who witnessed it, as a picture of appalling horror, distinct in its outlines, weird in its dark shadings, but utterly incapable of verbal representation.

LOSSES BY THE FIRE.

In the West Division, where the fire originated, the number of acres burned over was one hundred and ninety-four. There were five hundred buildings, mostly of an inferior class, destroyed, which were inhabited by about two thousand five hundred persons.

The burned area in the South Division comprised four hundred and sixty acres. This district, though comparatively small in extent, was the business centre of the city. It contained a great majority of those structures which were costly and magnificent, and were filled with the merchandise which made the city the great emporium of the Northwest. All the wholesale stores of considerable magnitude, the daily and weekly newspaper offices, the principal hotels, the public halls and places of amusement, the great railroad depots, and a large number of the most splendid residences, and in short, the great bulk of the wealth, and the chief interests of the city, were located in this district. In this division alone there were three thousand six hundred and fifty buildings destroyed, which included one thousand six hundred stores, twenty-eight hotels, sixty manufacturing establishments, principally of clothing, boots and shoes, and jewelry, and the homes of about twenty-two thousand people.

In the North Division, not less than one thousand four hundred and seventy acres were swept by the flames, destroying thirteen thousand three hundred buildings, the homes of seventy-five thousand people, about six hundred stores, and one hundred manufacturing establishments.

The total area burned over in the city, including streets, was two thousand one hundred and twenty-four acres, or nearly three and one-third square miles. This area contained about seventy-three miles of streets, eighteen thousand buildings, and the homes of one hundred thousand people.

The following statistics of the destruction of property, and the actual losses by the fire, seem to be approximately reliable.

CHAPTER III.

ACTION OF THE CITY AUTHORITIES.

TOWARD nightfall, on Monday, the flames had accomplished their work of destruction. The homeless people of the South Side were for the most part received into the abodes of their more fortunate neighbors, or taken to the hearts and hospitalities of those to whom a day before they were utter strangers, without formalities or ceremonies, for a kindred sorrow which had left no human interest untouched had done its work.

Those of the North Division had betaken themselves for the night to the sands of the lake shore, to Lincoln and other small parks, and the prairies. Comparatively few had found shelter for the night.

Those of the West Division who were left homeless were for the most part sheltered in the churches and school-houses, and on the prairies on the northwest of the city. Comparatively few of those who had fled before the flames, had tasted food since early Sunday evening, and hunger came to them to add its terrors to those of exposure, and in many instances apprehension of death.

And then came the greatest terror of all, the consciousness of the fact that families had been separated; husbands and wives, parents and children were missing. The flight had been so rapid, and in all directions the thoroughfares had been so obstructed, and in some cases utterly impassable, by the crowding of vehicles and masses of people, and the city itself a wave of fire; it is no marvel that under these circumstances, thousands for the time were lost sight of, and became lonely wanderers; and that hundreds perished in the flames.

The seeds of permanent or temporary disease sown, the bodily suffering and mental anguish endured, can never have statistical computation, or adequate description.

The bodies of the dead, not less than three hundred in number, who perished in the flames, were given interment at the county burying ground.

The city authorities were prompt in their endeavors to bring order out of the chaos which, in some measure, we have essayed to describe. The Mayor telegraphed to neighboring cities, first of all, for engines to help stay the ravages of the fire, and for bread to feed the homeless and destitute.

A council of city officers was held, who issued and signed the following, which was the first proclamation from the Mayor and Government:—

PROCLAMATION.

MILITARY CORRESPONDENCE.

BY LIEUTENANT-GENERAL SHERIDAN.

CHICAGO, October 9.

TO GENERAL BELKNAP, Secretary of War : —

The city of Chicago is almost utterly destroyed by fire. There is now reasonable hope of arresting it if the wind, which is yet blowing a gale, does not change. I ordered, on your authority, rations from St. Louis, tents from Jeffersonville, and two companies of infantry from Omaha. There will be many houseless people, much distress.

P. H. SHERIDAN, Lieutenant-general.

CHICAGO, October 9.

W. W. BELKNAP, Secretary of War : —

The fire here last night and to-day has destroyed almost all that was very valuable in this city. There is not a business house, bank, or hotel left. Most of the best part of the city is gone. Without exaggerating, all the valuable portion of the city is in ruins. I think not less than 100,000 people are houseless, and those who had the most wealth are now poor. It seems to me to be such a terrible misfortune that it may with propriety be considered a national calamity.

P. H. SHERIDAN, Lieutenant-general.

BY THE SECRETARY OF WAR.

WASHINGTON, October 10.

LIEUTENANT-GENERAL SHERIDAN, Chicago : —

I agree with you that the fire is a national calamity ; the sufferers have the sincere sympathy of the nation. Officers at the depots at St. Louis, Jeffersonville, and elsewhere, have been ordered to forward supplies liberally and promptly.

WM. W. BELKNAP, Secretary of War.

TO THE MAYOR OF CHICAGO :—

General Sheridan has been authorized to supply clothing, tools, and provisions from the depots at Jeffersonville and St. Louis to the extent and ability of the Department.

(Signed)

WILLIAM W. BELKNAP, Secretary of War.

TURNING AFFAIRS OVER TO GENERAL SHERIDAN

The preservation of the good order and peace of the city is hereby intrusted to Lieutenant-general Philip H. Sheridan, United States Army.

The police will act in conjunction with the Lieutenant-general in the preservation of the peace and quiet of the city, and the Superintendent of the Police will consult with him to that end. The intent being to preserve the peace of the city without interfering with the functions of the city government.

Given under my seal this October 11, A. D. 1871.

R. B. MASON, Mayor.

The following was issued by the Police Commissioners :—

Ordered, by the full Board of Police, that all powers granted to special police since Sunday, October 8th, be and hereby are revoked. The large military force now in the city under the command of Lieutenant-general Sheridan, coöperating with the regular police organization, is now deemed sufficient to maintain good order and quietude for the future.

MARK SHERIDAN,

HEADQUARTERS MILITARY DIVISION OF THE MISSOURI, }
CHICAGO, October 12, 1871.

TO HIS HONOR THE MAYOR :—

The preservation of peace and good order of the city having been intrusted to me by your Honor, I am happy to state that no case of outbreak or disorder has been reported. No authenticated attempt at incendiarism has reached me, and the people of the city are calm, quiet, and well-disposed.

The force at my disposal is ample to maintain order, should it be necessary, and protect the district devastated by fire. Still, I would suggest to citizens not to relax in their watchfulness until the smouldering fires of the burnt buildings are entirely extinguished.

P. H. SHERIDAN, Lieutenant-general.

HEADQUARTERS MILITARY DIVISION OF THE MISSOURI, }
CHICAGO, October 17, 1871. }

TO HIS HONOR MAYOR MASON, Chicago, Illinois : —

I respectfully report to your Honor the continued peace and quiet of the city. There has been no case of violence since the disaster of Sunday night and Monday morning. The reports in the public press of violence and disorder here are without the slightest foundation. There has not been a single case of arson, hanging, or shooting — not even a case of riot or street fight. I have seen no reason for the circulation of such reports. It gives me pleasure to bring to the notice of your Honor the cheerful spirit with which the population of this city have met their losses and suffering.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

P. H. SHERIDAN, Lieutenant-general.

DISMISSING CITY EMPLOYÉS.

To the Heads of all Departments of the City Government : —

The late fire has, of necessity, caused the suspension of public improvements, and of much work heretofore done in various departments of the city government. It therefore becomes necessary to discharge all employés of the city government whose services are not absolutely required. I respectfully request that you, in your several departments, immediately give notice of discharge to all such, with a view to the most rigid economy, which must now be observed in all departments.

R. B. MASON, Mayor.

[Not dated. Issued the 19th.]

FAST DAY RECOMMENDED.

In view of the recent appalling public calamity, the undersigned, Mayor of Chicago, hereby earnestly recommends that all the inhabitants of this city do observe Sunday, October 29, as a special day of humiliation and prayer; of humiliation for those past offenses against Almighty God, to which these severe afflictions were doubtless intended to lead our minds; of prayer for the relief and comfort of the suffering thousands in our midst; for the restoration of our material prosperity, especially for our lasting improvement as a people in reverence and obedience to God. Nor should we even, amidst our losses and sorrows, forget to render thanks to Him for the arrest of the devouring fires in time to save so many homes, and for the unexampled sympathy and aid which has flowed in upon us from every quarter of our land, and even from beyond the seas.

Given under my hand this 20th day of October, 1871.

R. B. MASON, Mayor.

I would like your opinion as to whether there is any longer a necessity for the continued aid of the military in that behalf. Very respectfully,

R. B. MASON, Mayor.CHICAGO, October 22.

GENERAL SHERIDAN TO THE MAYOR.

CHICAGO, ILL., *October 23.*TO HIS HONOR, R. B. MASON, Mayor of Chicago:—

THE MAYOR TO GENERAL SHERIDAN.

CHAPTER IV.

EXPRESSIONS OF SYMPATHY.

NO words suggested by the thoughts of the present time, although only comparatively distant from the date of the fire, could give an adequate impression of the sentiments of mankind as expressed in the telegrams and letters received within the days immediately succeeding that great calamity; and as embodied in the official action of Corporations, Commercial Associations, Municipal and State authorities, not only of our own but foreign lands. As it is the intent to make record of the surprising philanthropy of the whole world, which no event in its history had ever heretofore called forth, it is deemed the part of gratitude as well as historic integrity and accuracy, to record the words, and were it possible the very voice, which came in love and helpfulness to our city—a city prostrate and really crying for help. But not more urgent in its need, than the civilized world was quick to respond.

The heart of mankind was touched with a sense of brotherhood, so lyric that poets will sing of it; so unique that historians will record it; and so divine that philosophy will treasure it as the first memorable proof, that the race, of all lands and creeds, has advanced beyond the forms of civic and religious limitation, and henceforth, in its march toward a final and perfect civilization will unite its sentiments and endeavors wherever man is to be pitied, or his sufferings assuaged.

The telegrams and letters of earliest dates, representative in character and chosen from many hundreds containing similar expressions of condolence and assistance, are here embodied in the order of their reception.

It represents a vast amount of sympathy and self-denying labor on the part of our students. May I not ask as a special favor that you will send, instead of a formal receipt, such a letter as would interest our young ladies and gentlemen.

Please make such use of the money as is most necessary and appropriate.

Very truly yours,

J. E. BRADLEY, Principal.

CHESTER, DELAWARE Co., PA., October 17, 1871.

Dear Sir,—I have been requested by a committee of the citizens of this place, of which I am chairman, to say to you or whoever is duly authorized to receive the contributions from our citizens for the relief of the sufferers by the late fire in your city, that we will be able to raise about four thousand dollars ($4,000), and as Chester is a manufacturing city, and the largest contributors are manufacturers, whether the contributions from them would not be more beneficial to send a part, if not all, in such goods as satinets, cloths, jeans, bed-ticking, muslins, shawls, etc., as they could be sent in cases at cash prices and sent free of expense, or whether it would be more acceptable in cash subject to draft. Your early reply is respectfully requested.

TO HIS HONOR THE MAYOR OF CHICAGO:—

Dear Sir,— The teachers and pupils of this Institution, represented by an organization known as the Fanwood Literary Association, request your acceptance for the relief of the sufferers by the late disastrous fire in Chicago of two hundred dollars ($200), which they send by express.

Of this, one hundred and seventy-one dollars and forty-nine cents (\$171 $\frac{49}{100}$) are the net proceeds of a pantomime entertainment given by the Association at the Institution, on Monday evening the 16th inst., and twenty-nine dollars and fifty-one cents (\$29 $\frac{51}{100}$) is composed of contributions from different individuals connected with the Institution.

Probably in no quarter have the recent misfortunes of Chicago excited a livelier sympathy than among the children of silence who compose this household. Their voiceless prayers have ascended to Heaven in behalf of those so suddenly made homeless and destitute, and their most earnest efforts have been put forth to obtain the means to share with others the happiness of alleviating suffering they so deeply deplore.

Very truly and respectfully your obedient servant,

ISAAC LEWIS PEET,

Principal of the Institution, and Counsellor of the Association.

The collections are from all classes, creeds, and conditions, and all realize how it may be "more blessed to give than to receive." With warm sympathies for your distressed people, and the hope that our offering may prove a present relief to some,

HON. R. B. MASON, Mayor of Chicago, Ill.:—

I inclose draft of our First National Bank on Ninth National Bank of New York for three hundred and twenty dollars ($320), to be used for the relief of those who are suffering from the recent dreadful calamity that has overtaken your city.

This sum is the contribution of the operatives of the Nashawannuck Manufacturing Co. They heartily and voluntarily, upon the news of the fire reaching them, devoted one days earnings as a testimony of their sympathy for those who have so greatly suffered.

Please acknowledge the receipt of the inclosed, and oblige,

For employes of the Nashawannuck Mfg. Co.

WATERFORD, IRELAND, October 21, 1871.

HIS HONOR R. B. MASON, Mayor of Chicago:—

Dear Sir,—I have had already the gratification to acquaint you that the people of Waterford, in response to a call which I took the liberty of making to them, assembled in public meeting and resolved to aid, by all the means in their power, in mitigating the sufferings which have been cast upon the people of your city by an unparalleled calamity. In the "Waterford News," which I send you by this post, you will see a full report of our proceedings, together with the subscription list, which I am happy to say now amounts to about four hundred pounds (£400), and I am confident of at least another hundred pounds (£100). Compared with the magnitude of your disaster the sum is small, but I trust it will not be taken as a full index of the feelings of our people in your dire distress, for the sympathy pervades all classes, and were our means equal to the disposition of our hearts the amount would be tenfold.

I am authorized by the committee to ask, if your desire is that the sum which may be subscribed here should be forwarded to you in cash, or do you know of any other means by which it could be made more advantageous for the relief of the suffering in your city?

With assurances of the most heartfelt sympathy in your affliction, from myself and my fellow-citizens, I have the honor to remain, with profound esteem,

Your faithful servant

HENRY F. SLATTERY,
Mayor of Waterford.

12, ST. VINCENT PLACE, GLASGOW, October 21, 1871.

TO THE MAYOR OF CHICAGO:—

Dear Mayor,—Referring to my telegram of the 19th instant, intimating that Messrs. Henderson Brothers would pay you the sum of five thousand pounds sterling (£5,000), to account of the fund at present in course of being subscribed in this city, for the relief of the destitute sufferers from the terrible fire in Chicago, allow me again to express to you and through you to all your suffering people, the warmest sympathy of the citizens of Glasgow. I trust that the loss of life and property may not be so great as we have too much reason to anticipate.

I have little doubt, however, but that your citizens will continue to exhibit the characteristics of a great thriving commercial community, and that the rise of your city from its present calamity will be even more wonderful than its progress in the past.

I have only further to say in behalf of the Glasgow Committee, that the fund is being subscribed here for those who have been left destitute by the conflagration, not for those who may have other means of extricating themselves from their present sufferings.

May I request to hear from you at your convenience.

I am, dear Mayor, yours very truly,

JNO. WATSON, Acting Chief Magistrate.

CHARLESTOWN, MASS., October 21, 1871.

TO THE MAYOR OF CHICAGO:—

My dear Sir,—The city of Charlestown, in common with all other communities, deeply sympathize with our sister city of Chicago in its sudden and severe calamity.

I am glad to inform you that our people at once devised plans for putting their sympathy into a tangible form of relief. The result of their efforts is the sum of eight thousand dollars ($8,000), which I am authorized to say to you is held subject to your draft, or to such disposition of it as you may direct. Besides this sum I have and am forwarding liberal supplies of clothing to individuals in your city for distribution.

It must be remembered for our credit that a large portion of our resident citizens are merchants in Boston, only separated from us by a narrow river, and they have through very natural business or other associations contributed there, and thus reduced the amount from this city.

The operatives in the navy yard here contributed some three thousand six hundred dollars ($3,600) which went to you by itself. Nearly half of these men are resident here, and of course so much of this money as they represent must be considered fairly as from our city. Other organizations here have also sent their funds separately.

I think I may safely say, therefore, that there has gone from this little city for your aid at least thirteen thousand dollars ($13,000) in all, in addition to the clothing.

We propose to do something also for other western communities who are suffering from like cause with Chicago.

Tendering you the active sympathy and good will of both our government and the people,

I have the honor to remain, your obedient servant,

WM. H. KENT, Mayor.

SAG HARBOR, LONG ISLAND, N. Y., October 21, 1871.

LIVERPOOL, October 23, 1871.

TO THE MAYOR OF CHICAGO, U. S. A.:—

Sir,—The members of the Scotch Drapery trade in Liverpool have heard with feelings of sorrow of the terrible fires that have been devastating your city, and they wished, as a body, to evince their sympathies with those who must have suffered so terribly.

They accordingly send to you, per the Mayor of New York, five packages of woolen and cotton goods, which they hope may be found of some little assistance during the rigors of the coming winter.

With profound sympathy for your citizens in their distress, I am sir,

Yours most obediently,

JAS. LAIDLAW.

CONSULATE GENERAL OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, }
FRANKFORT ON THE MAIN, October 23, 1871.

HON. R. B. MASON, Mayor of Chicago:—

Sir,—I have the pleasure to inform you, that on behalf of the citizens and residents of the city of Frankfort on the Main, I have placed at your disposal the amount of twelve thousand five hundred dollars ($12,500) U. S. Bonds, of the issue of 1862 first series, with the coupons of November attached, being a portion of the amount contributed for the relief of the suffering citizens of your city, which will realize fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000) in U. S. currency.

The German citizens of Frankfort, as well as the Americans resident here, although distant from you in space, are with you in heart, thought, and sympathy, in this hour of your distress and want, and, while the whole world are laboring to relieve your sufferings, they also desire to do all in their power to mitigate the calamity now almost prostrating you. I have the honor to be your obedient servant,

W. PRENTISS WEBSTER, U. S. Consul-general.

TO THE MAYOR OF CHICAGO:—

Dear Sir,—I requested our Mayor on Saturday last to telegraph to you that six thousand dollars ($6,000) collected by the citizens of Halifax was at your disposal, to be added to the sum contributed from all quarters towards the relief of those who have been made homeless by the fire which has destroyed so much of your great and beautiful city.

Allow me to add that this sum but feebly represents the universal feelings of sympathy among us all, for the thousands of the suffering people of Chicago.

The amount would have been much larger, but on the very evening for which the relief meeting was called, a storm of unprecedented violence burst upon our shores, which destroyed so much property of the rich, and swept away the all of so many of the poor, that our hands were stayed from doing as much as we anticipated.

I trust that our small contribution, which goes from willing, sympathizing donors, may be instrumental in relieving some of the more dominant causes of distress, and also in forming a link of kindly feeling between Chicago and Halifax.

Believe me with much esteem and sympathy, yours,

JOHN DOULL,

Treasurer Citizens' Committee for the relief of Chicago.

WEST TROY, N. Y., October 24, 1871.

WIRT DEXTER, ESQ., CHICAGO RELIEF AND AID SOCIETY:—

Dear Sir,—I have the honor to inclose two (2) cases of shawls shipped to you, a contribution from the employés of these mills, who also send their heartfelt sympathies for your poor people at this calamitous time.

Yours very sincerely,

ARCH. M. MCLEAN,

In behalf of Messrs. James Roy and Company's employés.

My dear Sir,—As a small token of the deep sympathy of the residents of Dresden with the people of Chicago in their great calamity, and to aid in the relief of the suffering and destitute, I have received from them the sum of sixteen hundred thalers, which reduced to U. S. currency is thirteen hundred and fifteen dollars ($1,315), which I remit through Messrs. Robert Thode & Co., American bankers, who together with Mr. Jos. Meyer and other friends, will continue to receive subscriptions to be remitted through the Consulate.

With heartfelt sympathy for the distressed, and a just pride as a fellow-countryman in the characteristic energy and public spirit which you all display in such a wonderful manner in repairing the work of the disaster, I am most sincerely,

Your obedient servant,

O. H. IRISH, U. S. Consul.

BERLIN, October 26, 1871.

HIS HONOR, THE MAYOR OF CHICAGO:—

Sir,—The appalling calamity which has befallen our beloved Chicago, involving such a destruction of use and beauty, of commerce, civilization, and progress, as has never been recorded in human annals, has awakened earnest and genuine sympathy throughout all Germany.

The burning of our great and beautiful city, the grandest and most conspicuous monument of the genius and enterprise of the American people, under free and liberal institutions and government, is justly considered a national, not a mere local calamity. It is felt that a long and cruel train of horrors and suffering must follow the awful destruction that has swept over the ill fated city, and everywhere funds have been and are being raised for the relief of the vast multitudes of your destitute and stricken people. Being one of your citizens, allied to Chicago by many associations of public service and friendship, and glorying in its marvelous growth, prosperity and splendor, the horror of the announcement of its sudden destruction by fire unspeakably shocked and overwhelmed me, but feeling that I must do what little there might be in my power towards aiding and assisting my fellow-citizens in their distress, I promptly took steps to organize a relief committee here, and thanks to the ready responses to my appeals, we have thus far given orders to Messrs. Hardt & Co., of New York, to pay to your order the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000), which the committee trusts you have promptly received.

Among the contributors to the fund are found the Emperor and Empress, the Queen Dowager, and the Crown Prince and Crown Princess.

The Empress (to quote the language of the letters transmitting me the donations), "given in grateful remembrance of the sympathy displayed by America during the late war;" and the Crown Prince and Crown Princess, "in grateful acknowledgment of the friendly feelings which America most efficiently manifested for the German warriors during the conflict with France, and in heartfelt sympathy for the inhabitants of Chicago smitten by terrible misfortune."

Our collections are still going on and promise additional results. To enable the committee to properly account to the contributors for the sums received, I am directed to respectfully ask your honor to make suitable acknowledgment of the receipt of the amounts transmitted to you from Berlin. In the meantime we all here feel that the people of Chicago, though grievously tried and well nigh overcome, have not and will not lose hope and heart, and with the help of God, and by their undaunted courage, enterprise, skill, and energy, will rebuild and restore their city to even greater wealth, usefulness, and splendor,—a consummation most fervently to be desired and hoped for.

I have the honor to be your obedient servant,

H. KRIESMANN, U. S. Consul.

TOWN HALL, LEEDS, October 26, 1871.

TO THE RIGHT WORSHIPFUL, THE MAYOR OF CHICAGO:—

Dear Mr. Mayor,—I herewith beg to hand you invoices for twenty-one, and bill of lading for nineteen bales of blankets, as the first contribution from the borough of Leeds, in token of our deep sympathy with you in the great calamity which has befallen your city.

The bill of lading for the other two bales shall be forwarded to you on receipt of it from Liverpool.

We had purposed remitting cash, but a communication came from New York stating that all goods for the relief of the sufferers would be admitted, duty free, in Chicago, and that blankets were much needed.

In making the selections we have considered the peculiar circumstances of the case, and have sent blankets of a description which we think best adapted for the immediate wants of your citizens.

With assurances of my deep sympathy with you, believe me, dear Mr. Mayor,

Yours, faithfully,

JOHN BARRAN, Mayor of Leeds.

The list of subscriptions circulated by me and urged by my best endeavors, showing already an additional amount of donations, and preliminary steps having been taken to have the same opened also in the other places of my district, I may soon expect to be able to forward to you another and similar sum of money.

HON. R. B. MASON, Mayor, Chicago : —

Dear Sir, — In common with the spontaneous outburst of praiseworthy and generous liberality of the people of the whole country, I am pleased to inclose you, and through you, my dear sir, to the Aid and Relief Society of your fire-destroyed city, a contribution of the employés of Susquehanna shop, Erie Railway, amounting to six hundred and twenty dollars and twenty cents (\$620 $\frac{20}{100}$), to be applied as your society in their judgment may deem best, to the relief of the sufferers by the recent great fire of Chicago, which has left thousands of your citizens houseless, homeless, and penniless. Trusting that it may reach you in safety, and, like the widow's mite, be blessed of God in the little good it may accomplish in the relief of suffering humanity,

I am, with considerations of respect and sympathy,

Very truly,

JAMES B. GREGG, Master Mechanic.

NEW YORK, November 1, 1871.

HON. R. B. MASON, Mayor of Chicago : —

Sir, — When the sad tidings of the destruction of your fair city were spread abroad, the merchants of Washington and West Washington Market, in common with the civilized world, were moved with feelings of deepest sympathy for your people in their day of distress, and at a meeting resolved to raise money for their relief. As the result of our collections I have in hand forty-one hundred and forty-two dollars and fifty cents (\$4,142 $\frac{50}{100}$).

Since the destruction of your city, dire calamity by fire has come upon the people of Wisconsin and Michigan, and at a meeting of our merchants it was resolved that the amount collected shall be equally divided among Chicago and the two States mentioned, and in pursuance of directions I have the pleasure now to place at your disposal for distribution, the sum of thirteen hundred and eighty dollars and eighty-four cents (\$1,380 $\frac{84}{100}$), being one third the amount collected, and await your suggestions as to how it shall be sent to you.

Respectfully,

E. C. SCHANCK,

Secretary and Treasurer.

BASEL, SWITZERLAND, November 1, 1871.

HON. R. B. MASON, Mayor of Chicago : —

Dear Sir, — I am happy indeed to inform you, that up to date, I have collected from sympathizing citizens of Basle, over sixteen thousand (16,000) francs gold, for the unfortunate inhabitants of Chicago. May this little sum contribute, with the blessing of God, its mite to alleviate suffering, and bring good cheer to some almost desponding souls of your once so happy and prosperous city, truly the Queen of the West.

Please draw upon A. Goettel & Co., New York, for sixteen thousand (16,000) francs. These gentlemen were to-day instructed by Iselin & Strahelin, bankers at Basle, to have this sum at your disposal; the balance, after deducting some expenses, will be forwarded to you at some future day. It may not be uninteresting to you, if I here add, that Basle lies on the very boundary of Switzerland, counts some 40,000 inhabitants, and is proverbial for its liberality. During the late war it contributed largely to the sick and wounded of both armies.

In 1556, Basle itself was almost entirely burnt and destroyed through an earthquake.

Please answer this letter when convenient.

I have the honor to be your obedient servant,

T. C. ERNI, U. S. Consul.

CONSULATE OF THE U. S. OF AMERICA, }
ASPINWALL, U. S. OF COLUMBIA, November 2, 1871. }

THE HON. MR. MASON, Mayor of Chicago :—

Dear Sir,—I was with profound sorrow that I read the accounts of the terrible calamity which visited Chicago on the 8th and 9th, and following days of October last past. I was more affected from the fact of having visited the "Garden City" but a short time previous to my departure for this country, and having seen the magnificence of the Western Metropolis, which is now laid in ruins.

God will provide for the thousands of homeless, houseless people, for I see that the hearts of millions are affected, and contributions are pouring in from every quarter. I immediately opened a subscription book at this Consulate, but regret exceedingly to say that no one has come forward to enroll his name. However, the American Lodge of Free Masons voted an amount; and the Masons having subscribed independently to the relief of Chicago, it could not be expected that many would subscribe outside, as nearly all our countrymen here belong to the Masonic fraternity. In addition to my Masonic mite, you will please draw on Wm. H. Knoepfel, No. 16 Cedar Street, New York, for twenty-five dollars ($25), and I only regret that I am unable to give as many thousands, but the position of Consul, is one which calls daily for the relief of some destitute countrymen, hence my inability to do more.

With feelings of heartfelt sympathy for the distressed people of Chicago, I subscribe myself,

Dear sir, very respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

CHAS. ERASMUS PERRY, U. S. Consul.

S. JARLATH'S, TUAM, IRELAND, }
November 3, 1871. }

TO THE MAYOR OF CHICAGO :—

Dear Sir,—I beg to inclose a draft of fifty pounds (£50) sterling, toward mitigating in some degree the terrible calamity which has so recently and so heavily fallen on the city and people of Chicago. A disaster so appalling in its suddenness, its extent, in the number of its victims and the intensity of their sufferings, must no doubt meet corresponding sympathy in the generous promptness with which relief will continually flow to your city from the charitable and humane of every nation of the earth to which the melancholy story of its awful conflagration, not of its ruin I hope, has been wafted.

At all events we of Ireland who have been tried and trained in the school of misfortune should not be insensible to the distress of others, nor should we forget that when a quarter of a century ago a direful famine swept our land and destroyed our people, it was from all parts of the great American nation our devoted country received its most abundant relief. Accept this humble offering as a pledge of our sincere sympathy with the deep sufferings of your people, and believe me, dear sir,

Your faithful servant,

JOHN, Archbishop of Tuam.

We trouble you with this matter because we have not at hand the address of the Treasurer of the Relief Society. Please ask the Treasurer to acknowledge the receipt of the money when received, that we may publish the same for the satisfaction of all parties concerned. Hoping that the needy will be well cared for during the winter,

HON. R. B. MASON, Mayor of Chicago:—

Sir,— It gives me great pleasure to state that the contributions set on foot in this consular district for the relief of Chicago, will amount to nearly forty thousand francs, gold. Thirty thousand (30,000) francs of this sum will be forwarded herewith by the Committee's Cashier, "The Swiss Credit Austalt," in bills on New York. The feeling of sympathy here for the unfortunate city is very general, the contributions being from all classes, rich and poor, in amounts from one to one thousand francs; and I feel that the sum raised would have been much larger were it not for the fact that the people of the district have been compelled to aid very largely their countrymen of the district who suffered by the disastrous overflow of the River Rhine, which occurred in the early summer near here, and laid waste many millions worth of property belonging chiefly to the poor and agricultural classes.

The remainder of the amount subscribed will be forwarded in a few days.

This sum is the amount of divers contributions made in Switzerland for the benefit of the sufferers by the great fire in Chicago, and forwarded for transmission to this Legation. The greatest part of it, 6,709 francs, was forwarded to me by Mr. Chas. H. Upton, the United States Consul at Geneva, as the result of contributions made in that city, at Chaux-de-fonds, and at St. Croix. Mr. Upton desired me to suggest, in remitting it to you, that if there were persons of Swiss origin rendered destitute by the fire, it might appropriately be applied to their relief.

Of the other contributors, Messrs. Marcuard & Co., bankers of this city, gave five hundred francs; three hundred and thirty-four francs were forwarded to me in the name of Swiss citizens who have formerly resided in the United States; two hundred and three francs were sent by Mr. Th. Renhewitz of Montreux, as the product of a Matinee Musicale and Dramatique, given by the professors and pupils of his school; and nineteen francs were sent as a collection made at a meeting of laborers at Montreux.

HON. LYMAN TRUMBULL, United States Senate Chamber, Washington, D. C. :—

Dear Sir,— Having been named treasurer of the Committee of the "Chicago Relief Fund" in this city, I have now the pleasure, in accordance with the desire of said committee, to forward you inclosed list of subscribers to said fund, amounting to say seven hundred and eleven

BIRMINGHAM, December 16, 1871.

TO THE PRESIDENT OF THE CHICAGO RELIEF AND AID SOCIETY:—

Sir,—Having had the duty, as Mayor of Birmingham, to preside over a public meeting of the principal inhabitants, convened to consider what relief could be sent to your people under their sufferings caused by the late fire, I have now the satisfaction to inform you that the amount raised has been, after the payment of the expenses of collection, nearly four thousand one hundred pounds (£4,100).

Of this sum two thousand pounds (£2,000) was sent through Messrs. J. S. Morgan & Co. of London, and Drexel, Morgan, & Co. of New York, on 16th of October, a further sum of fifteen hundred pounds (£1,500) was forwarded through the same channel on 3d November, and I am directed to inform you that we now hold at your disposal the balance, being nearly six hundred pounds (£600), which we shall be glad to forward in any mode which you may prefer.

I ask you to accept the assurance of my own hearty sympathy, as well as that of this large community, under your great calamity, and

I am, sir, yours most respectfully,

Sir,—I to-day remit to Messrs. Wright & Co. of Rio de Janeiro, the sum of two thousand six hundred and seventy-five milreis (Rs. 2,675), to be by them remitted to you, either direct or through the Chicago Aid Committee there. This is the amount of the subscriptions obtained by me here for the benefit of the unfortunate sufferers by the late terrible conflagration in your city, and I request you to apply it accordingly. The sum is small, but it will go to show you that, although you are seven thousand miles distant, your distress has met with sympathy here and your cry for aid for your sufferers was brought to us over that wire which binds kind hearts together. The people here are very charitable, and would have subscribed far more generously to this fund, but for the fact that they have during this year given very largely for a number of other similar purposes.

THE HON. JOSEPH MEDILL, Mayor of Chicago:—

Dear Sir,— You have, through various channels, had information heretofore of the measures taken by Americans in this city to contribute to the relief of the sufferers from the dreadful and calamitous fire which visited your beautiful city.

I have now the pleasure of forwarding to you a copy of the formal report to me of collections and remittances, made by the committee which was appointed at the meeting held here on the 12th of October last. The citizens of Chicago will find in it, I trust, some satisfactory proof of the deep and active sympathy for them which stirred the hearts of their countrymen abroad; and they will not fail to observe also how nobly, generously, and promptly, without even an appeal to them for help, the people of Great Britain claimed to share with American friends the privilege of adding to the fund we sought to raise.

HON. R. B. MASON, Mayor of Chicago, Ill., U. S. A.:—

Dear Sir,— Having been appointed by the foreign community of this port, a committee for the purpose of soliciting aid for the sufferers by the fire, which destroyed so large a portion of your city in October of last year, we have now the pleasure to hand you the result of our efforts in the form of the second of exchange, No. 33, of the Oriental Bank Corporation, Hong Kong, on their London office at one month sight, in your favor for two hundred and sixty-three pounds sixteen shillings

(£263 16s.) sterling; the first having been forwarded direct to London for acceptance. This is the equivalent, at exchange four shillings forty-three pence and four farthings per dollar (less stamps), of twelve hundred and one dollars and seventy-four cents (\$1,201 $\frac{74}{100}$), of which six hundred and fifty-five (\$655) were subscribed by the foreign, and five hundred and forty-six dollars and seventy-four cents (\$546 $\frac{74}{100}$) by the Chinese community.

We regret the insignificance of the amount as compared with the magnitude of the object, and trust it will be accepted more as a token of the sympathy universally felt here by all nationalities for suffering so unparalleled. Our community is very small, most of the merchantile houses being only branches, having heads in Hong Kong and at home, where they subscribed before details of the disaster reached China.

Trusting you will find this small contribution acceptable,

We remain, dear sir, your obedient servants,

BY THE GOVERNOR OF ILLINOIS.

JOHN M. PALMER, Governor of Illinois, to the People of the State of Illinois :—

A fire of unexampled magnitude has devastated the city of Chicago, depriving thousands of our citizens of shelter and food and clothing.

Under these painful circumstances I call upon you to open your hearts for the relief of the suffering. Contribute of your abundance everything that you can—food, clothing, money; organize committees and systematize your efforts.

Remember those, our fellow-citizens who have always responded so nobly to every call.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and

BY THE GOVERNOR OF ILLINOIS.

STATE OF ILLINOIS, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

JOHN M. PALMER, Governor of Illinois, To all whom these presents shall come, greeting :—

Whereas, in my judgment, the great calamity that has overtaken Chicago, the largest city of the State; that has deprived many thousands of our citizens of homes and rendered them destitute; that has destroyed many millions in value of property, and thereby disturbing the business of the people and deranging the finances of the State, and interrupting the execution of the laws, is and constitutes “an extraordinary occasion " within the true intent and meaning of the eighth section of the fifth article of the Constitution.

Now, therefore, I, John M. Palmer, Governor of the State of Illinois, do by this, my proclamation, convene and invite the two Houses of the General Assembly in session in the city of Springfield, on Friday, the 13th day of the month of October, in the year of our Lord 1871, at 12 o'clock noon of said day, to take into consideration the following subjects:—

1. To appropriate such sum or sums of money, or adopt such other legislative measures as may be thought judicious, necessary, or proper, for the relief of the people of the city of Chicago.

2. To make provision, by amending the revenue laws or otherwise, for the proper and just assessment and collection of taxes within the city of Chicago.

3. To enact such other laws and to adopt such other measures as may be necessary for the relief of the city of Chicago and the people of said city, and for the execution and enforcement of the laws of the State.

4. To make appropriations for the expenses of the General Assembly, and such other appropriations as may be necessary to carry on the State Government.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the great seal of the State to be affixed. Done at

By the Governor,
EDWARD RUMMELL, Secretary of State.

BY THE GOVERNOR OF WISCONSIN.

TO THE PEOPLE OF WISCONSIN:—

Throughout the northern part of this State fires have been raging in the woods for many days, spreading desolation on every side. It is reported that hundreds of families have been rendered homeless by this devouring element, and reduced to utter destitution, their entire crops having been consumed. Their stock has been destroyed, and their farms are but a blackened desert. Unless they receive instant aid from portions not visited by this dreadful calamity, they must perish.

The telegraph also brings the terrible news that a large portion of the city of Chicago is destroyed by a conflagration, which is still raging. Many thousands of people are thus reduced to penury, stripped of their all, and are now destitute of shelter and food. Their sufferings will be intense, and many may perish unless provisions are at once sent to them from the surrounding country. They must be assisted now.

In the awful presence of such calamities the people of Wisconsin will not be backward in giving assistance to their afflicted fellow-men.

I, therefore, recommend that immediate organized effort be made in every locality to forward provisions and money to the sufferers by this visitation, and suggest to mayors of cities, presidents of villages, town supervisors, pastors of churches, and to the various benevolent societies, that they devote themselves immediately to the work of organizing effort, collecting contributions, and sending forward supplies for distribution.

And I entreat all to give of their abundance to help those in such sore distress.

Given under my hand, at the Capitol, at Madison, this 9th day of October, A. D. 1871.

BY THE GOVERNOR OF MICHIGAN.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, EXECUTIVE OFFICE, }
LANSING, October 9, 1871. }

The city of Chicago, in the neighboring State of Illinois, has been visited, in the providence of Almighty God, with a calamity almost unequalled in the annals of history. A large portion of that beautiful and most prosperous city has been reduced to ashes and is now in ruins. Many millions of dollars in property, the accumulation of years of industry and toil, have been swept away in a moment. The rich have been reduced to penury, the poor have lost the little they possessed, and many thousands of people rendered homeless and houseless, and are now without the absolute necessities of life. I, therefore, earnestly call upon the citizens of every portion of Michigan to take immediate measures for alleviating the pressing wants of that fearfully afflicted city by collecting and forwarding to the Mayor, or proper authorities of Chicago, supplies of food as well as liberal collections of money. Let this sore calamity of our neighbors remind us of the uncertainty of earthly possessions, and that when one member suffers all the members should suffer with it. I cannot doubt that the whole people of the State will most gladly, and most promptly, and most liberally respond to this urgent demand upon their sympathy; but no words of mine can plead so strongly as the calamity itself.

HENRY P. BALDWIN, Governor of Michigan.

BY THE GOVERNOR OF IOWA.

TO THE PEOPLE OF IOWA:—

An appalling calamity has befallen our sister State. Her metropolis — the great city of Chicago — is in ruins. Over one hundred thousand people are without shelter or food, except as supplied by others. A helping hand let us now promptly give. Let the liberality of our people, so lavishly displayed during the long period of national peril, come again to the front, to lend succor in this hour of distress. I would urge the appointment at once of relief committees in every city, town, and township, and I respectfully ask the local authorities to call meetings of the citizens to devise ways and means to render efficient aid. I would also ask the pastors of the various churches throughout the State to take up collections on Sunday morning next, or at such other time as they may deem proper, for the relief of the sufferers. Let us not be satisfied with any spasmodic effort. There will be need of relief of a substantial character to aid the many thousands to prepare for the rigors of the coming winter. The magnificent public charities of that city, now paralyzed, can do little to this end. Those who live in homes of comfort and plenty must furnish this help, or misery and suffering will be the fate of many thousands of our neighbors.

SAMUEL MERRILL, Governor.

DES MOINES, October 10, 1871.

BY THE GOVERNOR OF MISSOURI.

JEFFERSON CITY, October 9, 1871.

TO THE PEOPLE OF MISSOURI:—

A calamity unparalleled in the history of our country has befallen the great city of our sister State. Half of the houses of the people of Chicago are in ashes, and all of its business portion is destroyed. Every bank, railroad depot, insurance office, newspaper establishment, every wholesale house, all its accumulated products and food supply, and nearly every trade appliance and the elevators are reported as utterly consumed. Such disaster will move the hearts of our citizens with the profoundest sympathy. Let us unite likewise in the most generous emulation, and extend the largest possible aid to them in this the hour of misfortune. I, therefore, recommend to all counties, cities, towns, and other corporations, to all business and charitable associations, and to the community at large, to take immediate steps to organize relief committees to express the deep sorrow which Missouri feels at this overwhelming affliction. It was only yesterday that they were united with you in congratulating you on your own soil and in your own chief city whilst their own homes were being destroyed. Let us respond by throwing open wide our own doors to those who are without shelter, by sending bread and raiment at once, and by such contributions ward off further distress, as the generous heart of our own great State will be proud to transmit, in recognition, too, of the warm and intimate feeling that has heretofore so closely bound our citizens together. I cannot forbear to extend to all who have been thus stricken down in the midst of an unbounded prosperity the sincerest sympathy of Missouri's sons and daughters in their distress.

Done at the City of Jefferson, this 9th day of October, A. D. 1871.

B. GRATZ BROWN, Governor of Missouri.

BY THE GOVERNOR OF OHIO.

CHICAGO, October 12, 1871.

TO THE PEOPLE OF OHIO: —

It is believed by the best informed citizens here that many thousands of the sufferers must be provided with the necessaries of life during the cold winter. Let the efforts to raise contributions be energetically pushed. Money, fuel, flour, pork, clothing, and other articles not perishable, should be collected as rapidly as possible — especially money, fuel, and flour. Mr. Joseph Medill, of "The Tribune," estimates the number of those who will need assistance at about seventy thousand.

R. B. HAYES, Governor of Ohio.

BY THE MAYOR OF NEW YORK.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, NEW YORK, }
Afternoon of October 9, 1871. }

A disaster has fallen on the great city of Chicago, which not only has destroyed the best part of its dwellings, and paralyzed its industry and its business, but threatens the gravest consequences to the commerce and prosperity of our country. It has also reduced thousands of people to houselessness and privation. A dispatch from the Mayor of Chicago comes in these words: "Can you send us some aid for a hundred thousand houseless people. Army bread and cheese desirable." I have responded that New York will do everything to alleviate this disaster; and I now call upon the people to make such organization as may be speediest and most effective for the purpose of sending money and clothing and food. I would recommend the immediate formation of general relief committees, who would take charge of all contributions, in order that no time may be lost in carrying relief to those of our fellow citizens who have fallen under this dispensation of Providence. I suggest that the Chamber of Commerce, the Produce Exchange, the Board of Brokers, and the united presidents of the banks, and all religious and charitable associations immediately call a meeting of their respective members, and from them select independent relief committees, who shall solicit subscriptions of money, food, and clothing within their appropriate spheres of action. In the meantime, I am authorized to state that contributions of food and clothing sent to the depots of the Erie and Hudson and Central Railroads (under early and spontaneous offers of Jay Gould and William H. Vanderbilt), in even small quantities, from individuals or business sources, will be at once forwarded through to Chicago free of expense. I cannot too strongly urge upon our citizens immediate attention to this subject.

A. OAKLEY HALL, Mayor.

BILLS AND RESOLVES.

In response to the call of the Governor of Illinois, the Legislature assembled and received from the Executive, October 16, 1871, a further message, covering the subjects to consider which the Legislature had been convened.

Both Houses of the Legislature adjourned to visit Chicago, and after returning, passed the following Act, which having received the Governor's approval became a law.

"A Bill for an 'Act to relieve the lien of the City of Chicago upon the Illinois and Michigan Canal and revenues, by refunding to said city the amount expended by it in making the improvement contemplated by an Act to provide for the completion of the Illinois and Michigan Canal, upon the plan adopted by the State in 1836, approved February 16, 1865, together with the interest thereon, as authorized by section five of said Act, and to provide for issuing bonds therefor.'

"Whereas the city of Chicago has expended a large amount of money, to wit: the sum of two and a half millions of dollars, to secure the completion of the Summit division of the Illinois and Michigan Canal, under and pursuant to the provisions of said Act, so approved February

16, A. D. 1865, and Act supplementary thereto; and whereas the said city has a vested lien upon the said canal, with its revenues, subject to any canal debt existing at the time of the passage of said Acts; and whereas said then existing debt due by the State has been fully paid and cancelled; and whereas the canal trustees have delivered to the State of Illinois possession and control of said canal; and whereas it is provided by section five of said Act, as follows: 'The State of Illinois may at any time relieve this lien upon the canal and revenues, by refunding to the City of Chicago the amount expended in making the contemplated improvement and the interest thereon.' Now therefore,

"SEC. 1. Be it enacted by the People of the State of Illinois, represented in the General Assembly, That the sum of two million nine hundred and fifty-five thousand three hundred and forty dollars ($2,955,340) with interest thereon, until paid, be and the same is hereby appropriated, for the purpose of relieving the lien as aforesaid, being the principal expended and the interest thereon; which said sum is hereby refunded to said city, and when paid, said city shall execute and deliver to the State of Illinois a proper release of said lien to the satisfaction of the Governor; and the Auditor of State, under the direction of the Governor, is hereby directed to draw his warrants for said sum of money and interest, payable only out of any moneys in the Treasury belonging to the fund hereafter provided, to be known as the 'Canal Redemption Fund.'

"That for the purpose of providing said fund, any funds that are now or may be hereafter in the State Treasury, paid in on the settlement of the Canal Commissioners with the trustees of the Illinois and Michigan Canal, as well as from the revenue of the Canal, also all funds that are now or may hereafter be paid into the State Treasury, known as the "Illinois Central Railroad Fund," shall be transferred by the State Treasurer, upon the Auditor's warrant drawn for that purpose, to said Redemption Fund; that a tax of one and a half mills on each dollar of the assessed value of all the taxable property of the State be levied as a special tax for the years 1871 and 1872, and to meet any deficit in said revenues to meet said appropriation, the Governor, Auditor, and Treasurer are hereby authorized to issue bonds of the State of Illinois, to the amount of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($250,000); said bonds to bear interest at the rate of six per cent., per annum, payable semi-annually, in the City of New York, and shall be paid at the pleasure of the State, at any time after three years after the date thereof, and shall be of such denominations as the Governor may deem advisable, and be known as the 'Revenue Deficit Bonds,' and shall be delivered to the city authorities of the City of Chicago, at par, as a part payment on above appropriation. Provided, however, that not less than one fifth, nor to exceed one third of said sum, so appropriated, shall be received by said city and be applied in reconstructing the bridges and the public buildings and structures destroyed by fire upon the original sites thereof, as already provided by the Common Council, and the remainder thereof to be applied to the payment of the interest on the bonded debt of such city, and the maintenance of the Fire and Police Department thereof."

"Whereas, by reason of a great conflagration in the City of Chicago, the public buildings, bridges, and other public improvements have been totally destroyed, and the business of the courts is suspended, whereby an emergency exists as a reason why this Act shall take effect before the first day of July next, therefore,

"Be it further enacted, That this Act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage."

ACTION OF THE CITY OF SPRINGFIELD, ILLINOIS.

Be it ordained by the City Council of the City of Springfield.

SEC. 1. That the sum of ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or as much thereof as may be necessary, be and the same is hereby appropriated out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, for the purpose of relieving the distress occasioned by the terrible calamity which has this day occurred in our neighboring City of Chicago — The same to be expended under the direction of the committee on finance,

ACTION OF THE CITIZENS OF BOSTON.

FANUEIL HALL MEETING, BOSTON, October 10, 1871.

TO HIS HONOR R. B. MASON, Mayor of Chicago :—

Sir,—Immediately on the receipt of the intelligence of the destructive fire in your city, a meeting of the citizens of Boston was called, and on the 10th instant was held in Fanueil Hall.

The speakers who took part in the meeting were as follows, and in the order given, the Mayor, the Hon. Alexander H. Rice, the Hon. Charles Sumner, the Hon. Wm. Gray, the Rev. Edward E. Hale, the Rev. R. C. Waterston, the Rev. Phillips Brooks, the Hon. Henry Wilson, and the Rev. W. B. Wright.

The following resolutions were adopted with many manifestations of sympathy for your suffering city, and with entire unanimity :—

"The citizens of Boston having received intelligence of the devastation of the city of Chicago, by one of the most terrible conflagrations upon record, have assembled in Fanueil Hall, in response to the invitation of his Honor the Mayor, for the purpose of giving suitable expression to their feelings, and of taking such other action as is demanded by the circumstances of the case: Be it therefore —

"Resolved, That the citizens of Boston have heard with unaffected sorrow of the appalling calamity which in the providence of God has just visited the city of Chicago, involving the loss of many lives and the destruction of property to an incalculable amount, leaving hundreds of families houseless and penniless, arresting for a time not only the commercial growth and development of that hitherto prosperous city, but the entire course of its business; and they hereby tender to their brethren and friends thus suddenly and sorely tried, the cordial and heartfelt assurance of their sympathy.

"That they fervently commend their afflicted fellow citizens of Chicago to the paternal care of Him, who alone can adequately minister consolation and relief to them in the time of their overwhelming suffering and sorrow.

"That bearing in mind the marvelous history of Chicago in the past, they would respectfully remind all classes of that community, of the unprecedented success which has attended their tireless energy and unceasing enterprise, and they would urge them to draw strength and encouragement therefrom, in the arduous but not impossible work of restoration and reconstruction which lies before them.

"That the people of Boston and Massachusetts are earnestly invited to unite in an immediate and vigorous effort to relieve the pressing necessities of those families and persons in Chicago who are now suffering in consequence of the destruction of their property and their homes.

"That a committee of citizens be appointed by his Honor the Mayor to make necessary arrangements for the collection of money, and to disburse the same for the relief of the people of Chicago, in such manner as they shall think proper."

A large committee to collect funds was appointed in accordance with the last resolution, and of their doings you will receive reports in due course.

With great respect, we are, sir,

Your obedient servants,

WM. GASTON, Mayor and Chairman.

ACTION OF THE CITY OF RICHMOND, VIRGINIA.

In Council of the City of Richmond, October 13, 1871, the following Report was adopted:—

Whereas, The citizens of Richmond, at a meeting held in City Hall, on the 12th instant, adopted the following preamble and resolution, which were presented to the Council by the committee appointed for the purpose, to wit:—

"An appalling and unexampled disaster has befallen the prosperous city of Chicago: that great commercial mart, the pride and ornament of the Northwest, lies in ruins. More than half of her citizens, left houseless and helpless by a terrible and resistless conflagration, wander, in want, in sorrow and despair, around the smouldering embers of their former comfortable and happy homes. Men, women, and children, the aged, the infirm, the sick, stand exposed to the rigors of an approaching winter. This spectacle, while it awakens our liveliest sensibilities, calls for substantial aid. We who know from sad experience how to feel for such distress, will freely contribute, according to our means, to alleviate the privations of that stricken and desolated city. Therefore —

Resolved, That the Council of the City of Richmond be requested to appropriate the sum of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) to the relief of the people of Chicago, and that the chairman appoint a committee of five to present this resolution to the Council.”

Be it therefore —

Resolved, That in conformity to the request contained in the resolution of said meeting, this Council hereby appropriates the sum of ten thousand dollars ($10,000), to the relief of the Chicago sufferers.

Resolved, That the president of this Council forward to the proper authorities of Chicago, the sum mentioned above, with a copy of this report; and reiterate on the part of this Council the sentiments of sympathy so fully expressed in the said preamble and resolution.

I certify the foregoing to be a true transcript from the journal of the Council.

MEETING OF CITIZENS OF THE UNITED STATES AT RIO DE JANEIRO, BRAZIL.

RIO DE JANEIRO, BRAZIL, November 20, 1871.

In pursuance of an invitation by the United States Minister, a meeting of United States citizens was held at the Consulate, in this city, on the 20th inst., to secure some measures of relief and subscriptions, in aid of the sufferers by the great fire at Chicago.

Hon. James R. Partridge, United States Envoy, was called to the Chair, and Mr. R. C. Shannon, the Secretary of Legation, acted as Secretary.

Mr. Robert Clinton Wright proposed the following resolutions:—

Resolved, That we have heard with sincere sorrow the painful news of the destruction of a large part of the flourishing city of Chicago on the 8th of October last, by which many lives, and immense amounts of property were lost; one of our most flourishing cities nearly destroyed; and great distress and suffering caused to its inhabitants.

Resolved, That a subscription list be at once opened at the United States Consulate; and that others be placed in the hands of a committee of nine (9) gentlemen, named by the Chairman, who shall personally solicit from their fellow countrymen here their contributions, and who shall receive such as may be offered by others for the relief of the sufferers.

ACTION OF THE HOUSE OF BISHOPS.

The following resolutions were adopted by the House of Bishops of the Protestant Episcopal Church, October 11, 1871:—

Resolved, — That with deep sympathy for our brother in the sore calamity which has befallen the people of his charge, this House unanimously consents to the temporary leave of absence asked by the Bishop of Illinois.

Resolved, — That our brother is requested to convey to the authorities of the city of Chicago the expression of the deep interest taken by this House in the calamitous suffering that has befallen that great city, and its earnest hope that, in response to the appeal already made by this House, a like interest will be felt and manifested by the members of all our churches.

Committees from Boston, New York, St. Louis, Philadelphia, and other cities, were upon the ground during the days immediately succeeding the fire, and rendered timely and efficient assistance to the local Relief Committee. These committees took action to inform their respective cities of the great distress and particular needs of the people, and also to assure them of the trustworthiness of the organization to which they were encouraged to forward their contributions.

As indicating the general character of the action taken by these committees that of the committee from Detroit is subjoined.

ACTION OF THE DETROIT COMMITTEE.

CHICAGO, October 11, 1871.

Resolved, — As the sense of the committee appointed by the city of Detroit to distribute material aid to the needy of Chicago, we recommend, after careful investigation, the Chicago Relief and Aid Society as the most wise, well organized, and judicious avenue through which the benefactions of our citizens may be distributed, and we further recommend that in view of the fact that an abundance of provisions for present use are already provided, all further subscriptions be collected in money and deposited in bank to the credit of our Finance Committee for the use of this society as their pressing wants develop and take form.

E. B. WARD, Chairman of Committee.

CHAPTER V.

TEMPORARY MEASURES OF RELIEF.

THE authorities of the city came to the performance of an arduous, as well as novel task. Supplies of clothing, of cooked and uncooked provision, were started on their way to supply the wants of the people, whilst yet the flames were laying waste their homes and possessions.

To receive, assort, and distribute these supplies, was a work implying authority, original or delegated, and demanding experience and fidelity on the part of those called to so sacred an administration.

The outside world were as quick to forecast our needs and apprehend the danger of wide-spread suffering, and were as prompt in their action, as were the people of our own city, whose thoughts were not without some selfish occupation, in surveying the extent of their individual losses, and meditating methods for the immediate resumption of business. Sentiments of sympathy had been borne over the wires, letters of condolence had been written, food and raiment shipped, societies, corporations, municipalities, states, and the rulers of nations, had heard the story of our calamity, and had made contributions to supply our needs, while yet all methods to receive and efficiently operate the same, were only tentative.

In the nature of the case, organization and system in the immediate present were out of the question, and the methods employed were characterized by hesitancy in the absence of authority, and of uncertainty by reason of the absence of all precedent in the performance of such a work.

No community has ever had a more surprising illustration of the fact, that in the presence of great emergencies, adequate human resources are never wanting. The proportions of the work enlarged from hour to hour, and the entire compass of human emotions demanded instant comprehension.

Bread was to be furnished to the hungry, and raiment to the insufficiently clad; hope needed a resurrection in the hearts of the despondent, the bereaved needed the ministries of consolation, the sick required the nurse and the physician, the homeless were to be sheltered, the dying were to be proffered the offices of religion, and the dead granted the last ceremonial and service that man renders to his fellow.

Authority was present in the city government. By its hands, organization and system were to be brought as the primary conditions of efficient administration. Social order was the first end to be sought.

In the presence of a lavish abundance, it was a sacred trust to see that no human being was left in want, where human resource or human skill could supply it.

Love was the active sentiment in the community. Human selfishness was for the most part as prostrate as the great structures of wealth and prosperity. It is selfishness that blinds the moral perceptions; it is love that quickens them. Never was spiritual intuition more active, than in this the day of our calamity. Each man knew the need of his fellow, and said, "Thy necessity is like unto mine."

The history of sentiment, of unostentatious mercy illustrated in the throwing open of the homes of the rich and refined, to the thousands whose abode had heretofore been in hovels, but who were now deprived of these, in the sharing of food, raiment, and bedding, in the dividing of what remained of means by those who deemed themselves utterly impoverished, with those whose immediate wants were known to be greater, in the touching words and acts of sympathy and condolence, all this must remain an unwritten record, whilst its memory will be enshrined in our hearts, and hang about us as a glory.

It is not presumed that the account which we here attempt to give of the methods of relief, can possibly portray the conscientious anxiety, the unlooked for efficiency, and the splendid loyalty, which characterized these days and these duties. We can only now for ourselves survey the outlines of these stupendous events, and for others furnish a chart as a guide, should they ever be overtaken by a similar calamity.

The following official communications and documents cover the municipal action and the temporary measures of the citizens, having respect to the work of relief, as furnished by Orrin E. Moore, Chairman, and C. T. Hotchkiss, Secretary of the Citizens Relief Committee:—

RECORD OF PROCEEDINGS OF THE GENERAL RELIEF COMMITTEE, ORGANIZED OCTOBER 6, 1871.

Monday afternoon, October 9, 1871, a number of city officers and prominent citizens met in the Congregational Church, corner of Washington and Ann streets, for consultation regarding the public welfare in the emergency caused by the great conflagration, which, commencing in the West Division the night before, had up to that time twice crossed the river, destroyed the business portion of the South Division, including the City Hall, and was then rapidly approaching the northern limits of the North Division of the city. A call was issued for a meeting that evening at the same place, of the members of the Common Council, the executive officers of the city government, and citizens generally.

At eight o'clock there were present His Honor R. B. Mason, Mayor; T. B. Brown, Mark Sheridan, Commissioners of the Board of Police and Fire Departments; C. N. Holden, Esq., Tax Commissioner; Gen. I. N. Stiles, City Attorney; Gen. C. T. Hotchkiss, City Clerk, and the following named Aldermen, Thomas Wilce, W. B. Bateham, Samuel McCotter, Peter Daggy, H. M. Thompson, M. B. Bailey, S. S. Gardner, I. L. Campbell, Theodore Schintz, Henry Whitbeck, B. G. Gill, James Walsh, and H. O. Glade, and a large number of prominent citizens.

The assemblage was called to order by Mayor Mason, who stated the object of the meeting to be to inaugurate some plan for concert of action between the authorities and citizens, to furnish immediate succor to the large number of our people, who had been rendered homeless and destitute by the terrible conflagration then sweeping over the city, and who, to save their lives, had been driven far out into the open country, north and west of the city limits, where they would be compelled to remain without shelter, food, and in many cases without clothing, until assistance was taken to them. Also, to take charge of and distribute the relief which he was advised was being collected in other cities, and forwarded for the use of the destitute. He also asked coöperation with the city authorities, by organizations amongst the citizens, in maintaining public order, and in preventing as far as possible further devastation by the fire, which, on account of the destruction of the pumping works, would require the greatest vigilance of all persons in every part of the city whose premises had been spared by the flames.

On motion of the Hon. Willard Woodward, His Honor the Mayor was made chairman, and General Hotchkiss secretary of the meeting.

Alderman H. M. Thompson moved that a committee, to consist of six persons, two from each division of the city, to be named by the Mayor, be appointed to act as a General Relief Committee, which motion prevailed. The Mayor nominated Alderman J. H. McAvoy and N. K. Fairbank, Esq., for the South Division, Alderman W. B. Bateham, and Orrin E. Moore, Esq., for the West Division, and Alderman M. A. Devine, and John Herting, Esq., for the North Division, which nominations were unanimously confirmed. On motion of Alderman Bateham, His Honor the Mayor was added to the committee. After general discussion, but no further action, the meeting adjourned.

Tuesday, October 10, 1871. — The General Relief Committee appointed at the meeting of city officers and citizens the night previous, met at the same place on Tuesday morning, and organized by electing Orrin E. Moore, Chairman, C. T. Hotchkiss, Secretary, and C. C. P. Holden, Treasurer, and appointed the following sub-committees: —

J. W. Preston, Esq., President of Board of Trade, in charge of receiving supplies at the railroad stations, and sending the same to depots for storage and distribution.

Hon. R. P. Derrickson, in charge of transportation and distribution of supplies from depots to church and school building committees.

O. C. Gibbs, Esq., of Chicago Aid and Relief Society, in charge of distribution of relief.

G. W. Stamford and Clark Leib, in charge of supplying water to church and school building committees.

A. G. Lane and G. De Clercq in charge of railroad passes to destitute persons wishing to leave the city.

Doctors C. H. Eddy and I. E. Gilman, in charge of hospitals and medical supplies.

Alderman Thomas Wilce in charge of providing barracks for shelter.

The following orders were passed : —

“ 1. The general headquarters of the General Relief Committee, and all sub-committees, are established at the Congregational Church, corner of Washington and Ann streets, the same having been tendered for that purpose.

“ 2. The General Committee will remain in constant session at headquarters.

“ 3. All orders issued by authority of the committee for supplies and other matters, must be signed by the Chairman and Secretary, and entered upon a record to be kept for that purpose by the Secretary.”

The following notices were ordered to be printed for distribution : —

“TO THE HOMELESS.

“The headquarters of the General Relief Committee are at the Congregational Church, corner of Washington and Ann streets. All of the public school buildings, as well as churches, are open for the shelter of persons who do not find other accommodations. When food is not found at such buildings, it will be provided by the committee on application at headquarters.

“NOTICE.

“HEADQUARTERS, GENERAL RELIEF COMMITTEE, }
CHICAGO, October 10, 1871. }

“J. W. Preston, Esq., President of the Board of Trade, is hereby authorized to receive on account of this Committee, all supplies for the relief of the destitute, and distribute the same to depots of supplies established in the city, under the control and upon the order of this Committee.

“He is also authorized to hire or press into service, if necessary, a sufficient number of teams to handle such supplies.

“ORRIN E. MOORE, Chairman,
C. T. HOTCHKISS, Secretary.”

Wednesday, October 11, 1871. — Alderman C. C. P. Holden moved that David A. Gage, City Treasurer, be appointed Treasurer of the Relief Committee, in place of himself, and it was ordered.

His Honor the Mayor submitted the following proclamation, which was approved and ordered placed upon the records : —

“ 1. All supplies of provisions and clothing will be received and distributed by the General Relief Committee, of which O. E. Moore is Chairman, and C. T. Hotchkiss Secretary. Headquarters of the Committee, corner of Ann and West Washington streets.

“ 2. All contributions of money will be delivered to the City Treasurer, David A. Gage, who will receipt and keep the same as a Special Relief Fund.

“ 3. All moneys deposited at other places for the relief of this city, will be drawn for only by the Mayor of this city.

“ 4. No moneys will be paid out of the Special Relief Fund, except upon the order of the Auditing Committee. George Taylor, City Comptroller, Mancel Talcott, Esq., of the West Division, and Brock McVickar, of the South Division, are hereby appointed such Auditing Committee.

“ 5. Railroad passes for the city will be issued under the direction of the General Relief Committee, corner of Ann and Washington streets.”

Thursday, October 12, 1871. — From reports from all parts of the city, it is believed that every person rendered homeless by the fire was placed under shelter and supplied with food last night.

Also, that supplies in abundance for immediate necessities were being received from every quarter. It is estimated that about seventy thousand (70,000) persons have been relieved by the aid of this Committee.

Wirt Dexter, N. K. Fairbank, and O. C. Gibbs, representing the Chicago Relief and Aid Society, submitted a verbal proposition that the said Society take full charge of the receipt and distribution of all supplies being received for the persons rendered destitute by the fire, throughout the entire city. After full discussion, a resolution, offered by Mr. Fairbank, carrying the same into effect, was adopted. The following is the resolution : —

“ Resolved, as the sense of this meeting, that the organization of the Chicago Relief and Aid Society be adopted as the means of distributing the food and supplies received for the suffering, and that the present Relief Committee appointed Monday night last, together with the Mayor, Comptroller, City Treasurer, and two other Aldermen from each division of the city, to be selected by the Mayor and President of the Chicago Relief and Aid Society, be added to the direction of said society.”

The following circular was submitted by the Secretary, approved, and a copy of the same ordered to be sent to each Committee in charge of distributing relief.

"Committees at school buildings and churches, in charge of distributing food, clothing, and bedding to persons rendered homeless and destitute by the great fire, are directed to limit the issue of supplies to the absolute daily necessities (not always the wants) of persons applying for, and entitled to aid, pending the completion of a larger organization and a more thorough system for the distribution of relief. The Committee respectfully urge upon such Committees the great importance of strictly observing this rule, so that the generous contributions we are now receiving may not be diverted from the purpose for which they are needed, and which was intended by the donors."

Friday, October 13, 1871. — No official action, other than giving special directions for the distribution of relief, as cases presented themselves, was had by the Committee. On account of the great pressure upon the time of every person connected with the operations of the Committee, in the receipt and distribution of relief, it has been impossible to collect sufficient reports to determine the amount and kind of supplies received, and the number of persons receiving aid up to the present time.

CHICAGO, October 17, 1871.

WIRT DEXTER, ESQ., Chairman Executive Committee, Chicago Aid and Relief Committee:—

Sir, — The General Relief Committee of which we were Chairman and Secretary, respectively, with headquarters at the corner of Washington and Ann streets, discontinued all official action as a committee on Saturday evening last, and have since referred all official matters coming to us to your Committee.

We supposed that this fact was generally known, and we now make this formal statement that you may be assured that there has not been, nor can be any conflict on our part to possibly embarrass your Committee in the full control and direction of all matters pertaining to the relief of the destitute in our midst. Respectfully,

ORRIN E. MOORE, Chairman.

C. T. HOTCHKISS, Secretary.

On Friday, October the 13th, the Mayor issued the proclamation by which the Chicago Relief and Aid Society was constituted the almoner of the world's charity, and to its trust was committed a work of vast importance, various detail, and sacred ministering.

PROCLAMATION.

I have deemed it best for the interest of the city to turn over to the CHICAGO RELIEF AND AID SOCIETY all contributions for the suffering people of this city. This Society is an incorporated and old established organization, having possessed for many years the entire confidence of our community, and is familiar with the work to be done. The regular force of this Society is inadequate to this immense work, but they will rapidly enlarge and extend the same by adding prominent citizens to the respective committees, and I call upon all citizens to aid this organization in every possible way.

I also confer upon them a continuance of the same power heretofore exercised by the Citizens' Committee, namely, the power to impress teams and labor, and procure quarters, so far as may be necessary, for the transportation and distribution of contributions, and care of the sick and disabled. General Sheridan desires this arrangement, and has promised to cooperate with the Association. It will be seen from the plan of the work that is detailed below, that every precaution has been taken in regard to the disposition of contributions.

R. B. MASON, Mayor.

CHAPTER VI.

THE RELIEF AND AID SOCIETY.

IN every great city, there is a class of worthy and industrious poor who in their prosperity have a hard struggle to obtain what are deemed the necessaries of life.

In the event of these being overtaken by sickness, accident, the loss of employment, or the destruction of property, they fall behind. And in such domestic emergency, charity, judiciously and opportunely administered, will in many instances rescue them from permanent pauperism, and save the family from being broken up. Added to this class are widows with dependent children; aged and not seldom infirm people, still dependent upon their own toil for subsistence, who during the months of summer are able to earn a comfortable living, but when the winter comes with its increased demand for fuel, clothing, and food, the falling off or entire loss of employment, makes them the most worthy subjects of sympathy and charity.

There are many others who under ordinary circumstances can with rigid economy meet their absolute necessities, but when work stops and winter approaches, or any sudden misfortune befalls them, they are likewise helpless. There are single women, both old and young, who are capable only of doing certain kinds of light work, and who must take such remuneration as they can command, and in whose cases a week's illness brings destitution and want. There are many strangers, frequently whole families, from foreign lands, as well as from remote parts of our own, with but little money and no friends, who arrive in this city, and through failure to find work immediately, are thrown upon this or similar charities for support, or otherwise become public mendicants. As many as possible ought to be kept together in families and in homes, and should be assisted only and to such extent as may be temporarily necessary, and never by such methods as to beget the spirit of dependence, and the loss of self-respect.

These classes of the community should have other and more suitable provision than is usually made by the county or city authorities. They should be subjected to no humiliation, but inspired with the hope of self support, and encouraged in every endeavor to this end. Every failure should be supplemented by the sympathy and material aid of the more fortunate, and the benevolent.

If possible this aid should be tendered through some organized agency, the methods of which should be no obstruction to, but the channel of a kindly and merciful charity, and through which these people could make their wants known, and be supplied to such extent as the case might suggest. It was the intention of its projectors, that the organization known as the Chicago Relief and Aid Society should supply this want of the community, and be the medium of the voluntary benevolence of the people. For many years, through the instrumentalities of this Society, there have been comparatively few street beggars in the city, and by its frequent and public suggestion and request, through the press and otherwise, our citizens have come to understand that it is the part of social economy, as well as civil decency and propriety, to commit to the investigation and treatment of this their own organization, all such cases, in the full assurance that according to its ability their wants will be supplied. The exact domain, functions, and methods, of such an organization as was originally contemplated, can be most readily indicated by embodying the text of its Charter, and the general rules of its administration.

CONSTITUTION.

I. In carrying out the objects of this Society as indicated in the act of incorporation, it shall be the end aimed at, not only to afford temporary relief to the destitute, but also by rendering timely counsel and assistance to deserving but indigent persons, to place them above the necessity of aid; and without positively limiting itself to any one class in the distribution of its charities, the Society shall discriminate in favor of those in whom habits of temperance, industry, and thrift, give promise of permanent benefit from the aid furnished, and shall not embrace in the sphere of its operations such as are the proper subjects for the Poor-house, or for the action of the county officers.

II. Any person may become a member of this Society, by the payment of five dollars ($5.00), into its treasury.

GENERAL RULES.

RULE 1. The object of this Society is to aid such of the poor as through sickness or other misfortune require temporary assistance. The permanently dependent are not regarded as proper subjects, because if they should be relieved, the entire funds of the association would soon be exhausted in the support of a permanent list.

RULE 2. Each applicant for relief is regarded as entitled to charity until a careful examination proves the contrary.

RULE 3. Relief is only to be given after a personal investigation of each case by visitation and inquiry by the Superintendent or authorized visitor.

RULE 4. Necessary articles in small quantities to be given, and only in proportion to immediate need.

RULE 5. Relief to be discontinued to those who manifest a purpose to depend on alms rather than their own exertions for support.

RULE 6. Destitute persons sent from other cities should be referred to the County Agent, to be sent to their former residence. Should we undertake the support of such persons it would be offering a premium to other cities to send their poor to us to be supported.

RULE 7. Able-bodied men are not regarded as proper subjects for relief, but will be furnished employment directly by the Superintendent, or sent to reliable employment agents, with whom the Society coöperates.

RULE 8. Applicants having claims on other charities are to be furnished with a card directing them to the same.

RULE 9. It is an absolute condition of relief by this Society that all persons receiving aid are not to ask alms or assistance of the public, either on the street, at residences, or places of business.

RULE 10. No loans shall be made from the funds of the Society.

RULE 11. As a rule, relief to be administered in supplies rather than money.

RULE 12. Subscribers to the funds of the Society are entitled to send persons applying to them for relief to the rooms of the Society, and will be furnished with cards for that purpose.

RULE 13. In all cases where families or persons have been aided by this Society through a winter, on account of want of employment, and are by us offered situations either in the city or country, adapted to their condition in life, with aid to reach such situations, which they refuse to accept, no further relief shall be extended to them.

BY-LAWS.

1. Any person may become a member of this Association by signing the By-Laws and paying an initiation fee of five dollars.

2. The annual meeting of this society shall be held in the city of Chicago, on the second Monday of November of each and every year, at such place as shall be specified by notice from the Secretary of this Society, to be published in at least one of the American Chicago daily papers three days before the time of such meeting.

3. The members of this Society present at such annual meeting shall select from among their number a Board of Directors, to hold office until the next annual election, or until their successors are chosen.

4. The Board of Directors shall have power to fill vacancies in the Board.

5. The Board of Directors shall hold meetings whenever notified by the President or Secretary; and any three of said Board, together with the President thereof, shall constitute a quorum.

6. The Board of Directors, on being chosen at said annual meeting, shall select one of their number as President of said Board, who shall be the presiding officer of the Board and the chief executive officer of the Society, and shall have the general charge of the business of the Society; also authority and control over the subordinate officers. He shall also have authority to countersign drafts drawn by the Secretary for the general purposes of the Society, subject to the approval of the Board.

7. The Board of Directors shall select a Secretary, whose duty it shall be to keep a full record of all proceedings of the Board and the Society.

8. All money collected or belonging to the Society shall be placed with some depository selected by the Board of Directors, and drawn only in the following manner: By drafts drawn by the Secretary, countersigned by the President, and, in the absence of the President, countersigned by the chairman of the Executive Committee.

9. The failure of any person chosen as a Director to attend three consecutive meetings, without satisfactory excuse to the Board, shall be deemed sufficient cause for the vacation of his office by a vote of the Board.

10. The Board shall have power to select any three of their number, who shall constitute an Executive Committee, the chairman of which shall have power, in the absence or sickness of the President, or when delegated by him, to draw checks upon the funds of the Society.

In the autumn of 1857, under the above charter, an organization was effected, a Board of Management was elected, and the Constitution, General Rules, and By-laws as embodied above, were adopted.

Committees of citizens were appointed to raise funds, for carrying out the purposes of the Society, and a sufficient amount of money was subscribed and collected, to relieve the wants of all worthy applicants.

In order that the work of this organization may be more fully indicated and comprehended, it may be stated, in brief, that it had its own offices, with a superintendent, one visitor and one messenger, and in addition to these, it employed persons to superintend its Wood-yard and Lodging-house.

At first, voluntary visitors were engaged to examine into the wants and worthiness of applicants, but this was soon found to be an inefficient and unreliable method, and paid visitors were employed by the Society. These constituted the entire working force of the office, and the only salaried employés of the Society.

From year to year, the city was divided into districts, and persons of well known character and influence were designated and requested to canvass for money subscriptions, and other donations.

In illustration of the methods and agencies of the Society, a brief summation of its work for the year 1869, which may be considered as representative, is herein presented.

CHAPTER VII.

PLAN OF THE WORK.

IN accordance with the proclamation of the Mayor, this society accepted the enlarged trust created by the emergency, and on the 15th of October, 1871, assumed the care of the sufferers by the Great Fire, and made known the fact of this authority and responsibility in the following dispatch to the Associated Press : —

ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH.

An organization has been perfected for the purpose of receiving and disbursing contributions for our suffering people, consisting of our old established society, the Chicago Relief and Aid Society, aided by prominent citizens.

All bills are to be audited by the Executive Committee of that society, consisting of seven of our best citizens and the Comptroller, and R. B. Mason, present Mayor of Chicago. All checks for funds to be signed both by the Relief and Aid Society and R. B. Mason. In the great destruction that has overwhelmed us we needed a little time to perfect an organization. This we can now say with great confidence has been accomplished.

We most earnestly entreat the friends of suffering humanity not to intermit their efforts, as our want is not for a day but a whole winter.

So far as practicable we suggest that money be raised, so that we can buy the articles which from time to time we most need. All funds should be held subject to the order of the Chicago Relief and Aid Society, to be drawn only upon orders or drafts countersigned by R. B. Mason.

All materials should be consigned to the Chicago Relief and Aid Society at Chicago, great care being taken to mark contents on the packages and send invoice by mail. No more cooked or perishable food is needed at present.

R. B. MASON, Mayor.	} Chicago Relief and Aid Society.
HENRY W. KING, President.
WIRT DEXTER, Chairman Executive Committee.

On the morning of the 19th October, the following communication appeared in the public press of the city:—

CHICAGO, October 18, 1871.

In order that the public may understand the condition of the organization for the distribution of contributions for the sufferers by the Chicago fire, it should be known that the Mayor of the City of Chicago, as well as the citizen's committee, have turned over all contributions to the Chicago Relief and Aid Society, and that aside from that Society there is no other authorized to receive contributions for general distribution.

There are many special societies as well as individuals to whom special donations have been directed. These are doing an excellent work and cannot be dispensed with.

Our object is, to direct attention to the fact that there is no conflict in the work, and that contributions for the General Fund should come to this Association.

R. B. MASON, Mayor.

On the same date the Relief and Aid Society addressed the subjoined communication to all newspapers:—

CHICAGO, October 18, 1871.

TO OUR FRIENDS THROUGHOUT THE CIVILIZED WORLD.

The response to the sufferings of our stricken citizens was so spontaneous and universal, that money, clothing, and provisions were sent not only to the authorities of our city, but to many individuals, some of which, owing to the derangement of all business, may have miscarried.

To the end that these unparalleled contributions may be preserved, judiciously applied, and sacredly accounted for, we ask all persons and committees everywhere to send to this society duplicate statements, so far as possible, of all articles and especially of sums of money sent for our aid, together with the name of the person or society to whom sent.

A complete record of the sources of these contributions, together with the history of their expenditure, will be preserved for future publication.

All newspapers, at home and abroad, are requested to publish this circular. Address

WIRT DEXTER,

Chairman Executive Committee Relief and Aid Society.

The Society established its headquarters at once at Standard Hall, a commodious building in the South Division of the city. A General Plan of work was prepared and presented by Wirt Dexter, Chairman of the Executive Committee, which was adopted by the Society.

GENERAL PLAN OF WORK

OF THE CHICAGO RELIEF AND AID SOCIETY.

COMMITTEE NO. 1. On receiving, storing and sorting supplies, and dealing out upon requisitions from other Committees. Murry Nelson, Chairman, aided by Gen. Hardee.

No. 2. Committee on Shelter, to provide tents and barracks. T. M. Avery, Chairman.

No. 3. Committee on Employment, to provide labor for able-bodied applicants. Chairman, N. K. Fairbanks.

No. 4. Committee on Transportation, to provide passes for persons, and freight accommodations for supplies. Chairman, Chas. G. Hammond.

No. 5. Committee on Reception and Correspondence, to receive visitors and answer all dispatches and letters. Chairman, Wirt Dexter.

No. 6. Committee on Distribution of Food, Clothing, and Fuel. O. C. Gibbs, Superintendent of Relief and Aid Society, Chairman.

No. 7. Committee on Sick, Sanitary and Hospital Measures. Dr. H. A. Johnson, Chairman.

No. 8. Executive Committee, consisting of R. B. Mason, the Mayor, and the City Comptroller, the President and Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Chicago Relief and Aid Society, together with the chairman of each of the foregoing committees, shall constitute an Auditing Committee, and have control of all contributions. No bills to be paid unless upon checks or drafts signed by the President or Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Relief and Aid Society, countersigned by R. B. Mason, Mayor.

The chairman of each committee will fill up from citizens who shall tender their services, his own committee, making it as large as the magnitude of the work may require, and be responsible for its doings.

The clergymen of the city are requested to organize an Associate Board of Directors to that of the Relief and Aid Society, and through an executive committee of their own appointment, communicate with our committees.

We recommend the formation of local societies by citizens, and request them through their officers to communicate with the chairmen of the foregoing committees on all matters falling under the respective work of said committees.

The work of distribution as now proceeding will go on until our committees are supplied with force to relieve the present workers ; but we request all persons engaged in the work to stop hasty distributions, and give applications as much examination as possible, to the end that we may not waste the generous aid pouring in, as the work of relief is not for a week, or a month, but for the whole of the coming winter, and to a great extent for even a longer period.

The business offices of all the committees except the Executive Committee and Committees of Reception and Correspondence and Transportation, will be at 409 West Washington street, just west of Elizabeth. No relief will be administered at these offices, they being solely for the transaction of Committee business.

Applications for passes on Railroads will be acted upon at one or more places to be designated by the Chairman of that Committee.

The office of the Executive Committee and Committee on Reception and Correspondence, and the general business of the Committee on Transportation will be at Standard Hall, corner Thirteenth Street and Michigan Avenue. Home contributions of money will be receipted for at Standard Hall.

HENRY W. KING, President.

WIRT DEXTER,

Chairman Executive Committee Chicago Relief and Aid Society.

This plan was changed only in this respect, that at the following annual meeting of the Society, an Executive Committee was chosen by the Board of Directors from their own number, and invested with power to transact all business subject to the supervision of the Board. This Committee was composed of the heads of the Committees and Departments. No member of the Executive Committee or the Board of Directors has ever received any compensation for his services. The Executive Committee, with one or two exceptions, gave their entire time to the work during most of the winter of 1871-72.

During the early weeks of the winter the Committee gave the entire day to the work of their various departments and held meetings every night at which reports from all the departments were received, plans for the following day were considered, necessary changes in the methods were made, and thus a picture of the situation was constantly in the minds of its members.

Prominent and interested citizens were usually present upon the invitation of the Board, and committees from other cities and towns were frequently present, and were thus enabled to understand the practical operation of the Society and to communicate their impressions to the several constituencies which they represented.

As the work gradually fell into system, the necessity for these meetings became less urgent. To expedite the business of the Executive Committee, and indeed the business generally of the Society, telegraphic communication was established between headquarters and all the warehouses and stations. The convenience was very great, as the distances between the points of communication were long, and the travel through the burnt portions of the city was much impeded, while the expense was small, as the operators were also employed as clerks. For this facility the Society was indebted to the Western Union Telegraph Company, which also forwarded and franked our messages, as did the Atlantic Cable Company in the case of messages of acknowledgement, and orders for supplies.

When it became evident that the amount of the donations received, and of others of which the Society had been notified would enable it to carry forward the work of relief, the Board of Directors authorized the following:

DISPATCH TO THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

The continued donations since our last report, together with the twenty days of mild weather in January, enable us to say that the resources of the Chicago Relief and Aid Society will meet the wants of the present winter. By resources we mean not only what we have actually received, but various sums of which we have been advised, such as the New York Chamber of Commerce Fund, and the subscriptions of several cities delayed by negotiation of bonds and other causes, which sums, we presume, will be subject to our order when needed. We regard it as a duty to make this announcement the earliest day that it could be made with reasonable assurance of its correctness. We can also say that there will be enough to make temporary provision for our charitable institutions whose resources were cut off by the fire. A careful examination of their affairs is now being made by a committee appointed for that purpose. In our next report, to be published in February, mention will be made of all contributions, both of money and articles, so far as information can be had of the same. Everything received by this Society will be acknowledged, and we ask all other societies of Chicago to send us an account of their receipts. But, as much was given out by various agencies in the first days after the fire without record, we also request all societies and committees elsewhere to send us an account of their donations not mentioned in our next report, to the end that in a still further and final report proper acknowledgment may be made of the entire contributions to our people.

HENRY W. KING, President.

CHAPTER VIII.

DEPARTMENT OF GENERAL RELIEF.

SUPPLY AND DISTRIBUTION.

IN the confusion and disorder of the first few days of the fire, the only one practicable rule, and that one of imperative necessity, was that the hungry should be fed. The bountiful supplies which began to pour in from all parts of the country, while the fire was still burning, fortunately made it possible to give food to all who asked it. Churches and school buildings were used as depots and distributing offices, and all who asked received with such order and economy as it was possible to establish in so sudden an emergency. Discrimination, however, was impossible, and bounty fell upon the deserving and the undeserving, as certainly as that the rain falls upon the just and the unjust, for in a calamity that was so universal, and where tens of thousands were faint for want of bread, there was neither the leisure nor the disposition for careful scrutiny. Some waste was inevitable, but it was of more consequence that none should suffer from want than that a few who were not in need should not become successful impostors. But to reduce the work of relief to a system for the sake of economy in the ways and means; to secure to the real sufferers the needed aid; to detect and defeat imposition; to aid in establishing order by withholding encouragement to idleness, was, after giving food to all who said they were hungry, the first object of the Committee. The task was immense, for an army of a hundred thousand, not of men only with some power of endurance, but of men, women, and children, with their aged, their sick, their helpless and their infirm, was suddenly thrown upon the hands of the Society, and there was neither commissariat, nor organization, nor cohesion, nor even distinct and separate locality to fall back upon. The first step was to district the city, and it was accordingly divided into five large districts, made as nearly equal as possible with regard to population.

The public were notified of the location of these depots of distribution, by large posters in all parts of the city, and through the daily press. These were subdivided at first, into thirteen smaller districts, but were rearranged from time to time, as the necessities of the work suggested.

The whole were under the General Superintendent, but to each District was given a Superintendent, with supervision over his whole district, and to each sub-district, a sub-superintendent, with supervision over his immediate depot of supplies.

Sufficient assistance was given to each Superintendent, averaging, at first, about ninety men and women to each district, the duties of a part of whom were to administer to the wants of applicants for food and clothing, courteously and kindly, but with a firm adherence to rules established to guard against extravagant or injudicious distribution, the duplication of relief or pretended want. Another part of this force was made up of a corp of visitors, who were constantly busy in visiting all whose names were registered in the books at the offices of the relief-stations, and in searching for sufferers who needed aid but did not know where to find it. Registration was resorted to at the outset, both as an act of mercy and as a measure of precaution, and a rule was established at the earliest practicable moment, by which none were allowed to take supplies from the depots without full entry of name, residence, condition, and other circumstances which would identify the applicant.

It was the business of the visitor to keep himself constantly informed as to all the persons who were thus entered in his district, and to make periodical returns at the office. He was to learn by observation and inquiry, the exact condition of the registered; whether they were well or ill; whether they were idle or industrious; whether they were voluntarily idle, in which case they were peremptorily cut off from aid; whether they were entitled to entire or only partial support; whether they had other means of support than public bounty; and in short any circumstances in relation to their condition, or habits, or character which would be a guide as to the care which should be given them at the stations. There a ledger account was opened with each of them, in which appeared the returns of the visitors, the supplies given, with their dates, and when they were cut off, if discontinued, and the reasons why.

The Superintendents were required to keep a strict account of all their requisitions of supplies, as well as of their distribution; and as they were accountable for a judicious and energetic discharge of their duties to the General Superintendent, so they held their own subordinates strictly accountable for all their actions. Full and careful reports were made daily from each district, and the Superintendents met with the Executive Committee to make or hear suggestions, to answer criticism or complaints, to report progress and suggest improvement, if possible, in the working machinery. The districts were frequently visited by a general inspector, to examine into their condition and management; and a Committee on Complaints was always ready at headquarters to listen to any complaints of neglect or improper treatment, and to provide for their immediate correction if found, on inquiry, to have been well founded. It took a good deal of time to bring into systematic condition a complicated business of this sort, which was, in fact, getting into running order, under every possible disadvantage of want of preparation, as many large commercial establishments as there are warehouses, bureaus, and relief stations at the various points; but on the whole, the Committee believe that no better plan than that which they adopted could have been devised to carry on the work in their hands, wisely, economically, effectively, and humanely; that the relief given injudiciously or unnecessarily was reduced to the smallest possible percentage, while none were deprived of it who were justly entitled to it. In addition to the several districts of the city proper, there was a sixth district, which included all that portion of Cook county outside the city limits, which was under precisely the same rules and regulations with the rest, and had a similar supervision for such of the sufferers by the fire as found refuge in the other towns in the county.

The subjoined Table is a summary of the statements of the six districts, for the weeks ending November 18th and 25th, and will indicate about the average number of families upon the books at any one date, during the months of the largest distribution of food, fuel, and clothing. It will also indicate the fluctuations which took place in the course of two weeks.

Total number of persons aided 156,968

In explanation of the above statement of the large number of individuals who received aid at one time or another, to a greater or less extent, it must be remembered that almost the entire business portion of Chicago was destroyed by the fire and thus thousands of families were rendered destitute whose homes were not consumed, but who drew their support from occupation in shops and manufactories of various sorts. Taking the census of 1871 as the basis, the number of those rendered homeless is a matter of easy calculation.

The destruction by the fire was nearly complete in the wards in which it occurred. The fire originated in the Ninth Ward, burning out the northeast corner of that ward. Four blocks of the Tenth Ward had been destroyed the night before. It then crossed the river in the Second Ward, leaving but a dozen buildings in that ward, and destroying twenty-five or more in the Third Ward; it swept every house in the First, Twentieth, Nineteenth, Eighteenth, and Seventeenth Wards, and about four fifths of the Sixteenth Ward. We follow the course of the fire.

RATIONS.

Food was given at first indiscriminately, and in uncertain quantities, for want of conveniences in measuring and weighing. As soon as possible, however, it was reduced to fixed rations, and as the system of distribution was perfected, these were given out at intervals of two or three days, and finally of a week. At first, as the people had few conveniences for cooking, bread was given instead of flour, at an increased cost of forty-two cents to the ration. This was afterward almost wholly saved, as most of the applicants were supplied with stoves, and baked their own bread. Crackers, for the first few days, were substituted for bread, when the supply of bread was insufficient. All the crackers used, however, were contributions from abroad. Coffee or tea was given, as the applicant preferred; but tea, which was the cheaper, was the more usually chosen. The following ration for a family of five persons was found to be sufficient for one week:—

COAL.

To the cost of the weekly ration of food for a family of five should be added the allowance of one ton of coal a month, or a quarter of a ton a week. Fortunately, for such an exigency as this, the supply of bituminous coal for Chicago was ample, through the Wilmington Coal Company, which owns and works extensive coal mines in Will and Lasalle Counties, Illinois, with sufficient means of transportation at their command over the Alton and St. Louis, and Chicago, Burlington, and Quincy Roads. With Mr. J. M. Walker, president of the latter company, the Committee made a contract for the delivery of coal by the ton or half ton, at the door, for $4.50 per ton. This brought the weekly cost of coal for the family at $1.12½, which added to the cost of the weekly ration, brought the cost of food and fuel at $3.10½. As the demand for fuel was as constant and next in importance to that for food, a large depot of coal from other sources was kept in reserve for emergencies, as in case of interruption to railroad transportation by snow storms, or other causes, during the winter.

CLOTHING.

The demand for clothing was incessant and immense. The larger proportion of those who were sufferers by the fire lost all their personal apparel and their household goods. Immediate and urgent need was only very partially met by the bountiful supplies which were sent forward from all quarters. Much of this supply was of second-hand summer clothing, which was all that people could lay their hands on in the first emergency. It answered a good though only a temporary purpose, and the necessity of substituting for it better and warmer garments was constant and imperative. The markets of this country could not supply the demand for blankets alone. Where the supply of ready-made clothing was insufficient, piece goods were given out in measured quantities to applicants to make up for themselves. In this work great assistance was rendered by associations of ladies, as the Ladies' Relief and Aid Society; the Ladies' Industrial Aid Society of St. John's Church; the Ladies' Christian Union; the Ladies' Society of Park Avenue Church; and the Ladies' Society of The Home of The Friendless; all of these societies employed a large number of sewing women, thrown out of employment by the fire, in making up garments, bed comforters, bed-ticks, and other articles, from piece goods supplied by the Relief Committee, to be returned, thus manufactured, to the several depots for distribution.

PURCHASING COMMITTEE.

The necessity of purchasing food and clothing was imperative even at the outset, notwithstanding the large contributions of both that were made from abroad.

Large as these were, they were not sufficient even when most bountiful, to supply the demands made upon the Committee, and only enabled them to bridge over the interval until supply and demand could be made to balance each other by an organized system. A Purchasing Committee, J. McGregor Adams, Chairman, was therefore appointed, with experienced and responsible merchants to aid him, who, anticipating the wants at the several distributing points, held themselves in readiness at all times, as far as possible, to meet the requisitions of the General Superintendent. Their operations extended to all parts of this country and of England; to replace even partially so much household stuff, the accumulation of years, and to feed so large a multitude, suddenly deprived of their ordinary means of livelihood, was an immense and most difficult work. The supply of manufactured articles in the markets immediately accessible to the committee, was found to be wholly inadequate. Chicago wanted more stoves of a certain pattern, more blankets, more mattresses, more boots and shoes, and more furniture of various kinds than were within its reach to meet the emergency.

The problem was to find and to purchase all these as speedily as possible, and to get them into the hands of those in want. This duty devolved upon the Purchasing Committee, and it required their utmost activity, assisted by a large clerical force, and a most thorough organization, to keep pace with the constant and pressing demands of an impoverished people.

DONATIONS OF CLOTHING.

Of the actual quantity received by gift from abroad and distributed, it is impossible to make a detailed statement, as much was given out in the first calamitous days of destitution to all comers and without count. The United States Government, through the active efforts of General Sheridan, furnished seven thousand blankets, and five thousand each of undershirts, drawers, and socks. This branch of the work, however, was reduced to a system, like the rest.

The following table is condensed from the reports of the several districts for the week ending November 25th, giving the number distributed of several articles of prime necessity. To it is added the number previously reported:—

The above table does not include the stoves and mattresses given out by the Shelter Committee, who furnished both articles to a large proportion of their houses and the barracks. Nor the goods given out by the Special Relief Committee. Neither does it include the furniture and crockery, both large items of expenditure.

PAY-ROLLS.

The cost of handling this large business necessarily varied from week to week, as the number of families asking for aid increased or diminished. The pay-rolls for the week ending November 18th may be taken as a fair average of expenditure for the first months. That for the sixth district, which was that portion of Cook County, outside the city limits, is not included in this table. That, however, was comparatively insignificant, as the number of persons who needed aid there was small. Neither are the expenditures of the Shelter Committee included, as that is properly charged to a separate account, which was closed in a few weeks, and should not be included in the current expenses of the Society. The clerical force employed by that Committee was large, but temporary only.

CIRCULARS AND ORDERS

ISSUED BY THE DEPARTMENT OF GENERAL RELIEF.

CHICAGO RELIEF AND AID SOCIETY.
HEADQUARTERS DISTRIBUTION OF SUPPLIES.

No. 409 West Washington Street.

CHICAGO, October 24, 1871.

To all Superintendents, Assistants, and Visitors in the service of the Chicago Relief and Aid Society:—

To us is intrusted the responsibility of the distribution of supplies of food, fuel, and clothing to the needy of our city. With generous donations pouring in on every hand, and with multitudes of sufferers of all classes presenting their claims, in the first hurry and excitement, every tendency will be towards a generous and liberal distribution of supplies; but remember that there are from six to eight months before us in which we will have to fight hunger, cold, and nakedness from the dwellings of our poor.

I am fully justified in saying, that taking into account the amount of relief funds and stores received or reported to date, and those likely to be received hereafter, without the most rigid economy in their disbursement, mid-winter is likely to find us with our treasury bare, with out-door labor, to a large extent, necessarily suspended, and with a city full of poor, looking to us for food and fuel.

You will, therefore, see the pressing necessity that not a single dollar be expended for persons able to provide for themselves, no matter how strongly their claims may be urged by themselves or others. Every carpenter or mason can now earn from three to four dollars per day, every laborer two dollars, every half-grown boy one dollar, every woman capable of doing household work from two to three dollars per week and her board, either in the city or country. Clerks, and persons unaccustomed to out-door labor, if they cannot find such employment as they have been accustomed to, must take such as is offered or leave the city. Any man, single woman, or boy, able to work, and unemployed at this time, is so from choice and not from necessity. You will, therefore, at once commence the work of reëxamination of the cases of all persons who have been visited and recorded upon your books, and will give no aid to any families who are capable of earning their own support, if fully employed (except it be to supply some needed articles of clothing, bedding, or furniture which their earnings will not enable them to procure, and at the same time meet their ordinary expenses of food and fuel).

No aid should be rendered to persons possessed of property, either personal or real, from which they might, by reasonable exertions, procure the means to supply their wants, nor to those who have friends able to relieve them.

Our aid must be held sacred for the aged, infirm, widows and orphans, and to supply to families those actual necessities of life, which, with the best exertions on their part, they are unable to procure by their labor. You will intrust this work of reëxamination to your most judicious and intelligent visitors, who will act conscientiously and fearlessly in the discharge of their duties.

This circular is issued with the full approval of the Executive Committee, and any failure on the part of any employé of the Society to conform to the instructions above given will be regarded as sufficient cause for his instant dismissal.

O. C. GIBBS,

Gen'l Sup't of Distribution of Supplies.

Approved by the Executive Committee.

WIRT DEXTER, Chairman.

CHICAGO RELIEF AND AID SOCIETY.

HEADQUARTERS DISTRIBUTION OF SUPPLIES.

No. 400 West Washington Street.

CHICAGO, October 24, 1871.

To all Superintendents, Assistants, and Visitors in the Service of the Chicago Relief and Aid Society:—

In the distribution of supplies, give uncooked instead of cooked food, to all families provided with stoves — flour instead of bread, etc.

The Shelter Committee furnish all families for whom they provide houses and barracks, with stove, bedstead, and mattress, and no issue of those articles to such families will be necessary on your part.

Superintendents of Districts and Sub-districts will so keep an account of their disbursements as to give a correct report to me at the end of each week, the number of families aided during the week, and the amount, in gross, of supplies distributed.

Superintendents will also ascertain and report, as early as possible, the amount of furniture, number of stoves, amount of common crockery, etc., which will be needed in their respective districts.

Superintendents will also organize their working-force as early as possible, retaining upon their force those who have proved themselves the most efficient and capable in the discharge of their duties, reducing the number of paid employ  s to the smallest number consistent with the efficient performance of the work of their districts.

No person in the employ of the Society will be allowed to receive for his own use any supplies of any kind whatever, except it be through the ordinary channels of relief, and recorded on the books of the office in which he is employed.

In all cases of applicants moving into your district from another, you will before giving any relief, ascertain, by inquiry at the office of the district from which they came, if they had been aided in that district, and to what extent.

In the issue of supplies you will discriminate according to the health and condition of the family, furnishing to the aged, infirm, and delicate supplies not ordinarily furnished to those in robust health.

The following has been adopted by the Society as the standard daily ration for a family of five persons; you will vary from the amount according to the income of the family from labor or other sources:—

Bacon or Pork	2 pounds.
or Beef	3 pounds.
Beans	1 pint.
Potatoes	2 quarts.
Bread	3 pounds.
or Flour	2 pounds.
Tea	1 ounce.
or Coffee	2½ ounces.
Sugar	4 ounces.
Rice	4 ounces.
Soap	4 ounces.
Soft Coal	¾ ton per month.

The Department of Sick and Hospitals have adopted the system of Districts and Sub-districts, established by this department, and appointed a medical officer for each district. Visitors will report all cases coming to their knowledge, requiring medical attendance, and the person in charge of each office will have such reports at all times in readiness for the medical officer of the district when he calls. All possible aid must be given the medical officer of the district, and he is to be allowed free access to the office and books of the Society at all times.

The bread now being furnished is contracted for by the pound. You will be furnished with platform scales, and required to weigh and receipt for all bread delivered to you.

Superintendents and Visitors in those districts in which the Shelter Committee have furnished houses to men who were burned out, will inquire carefully into the condition and circumstances of all persons who have been furnished houses by the Shelter Committee, and report to Mr. Avery, Chairman, all cases in which parties have obtained lumber or building material by fraudulent representations.

O. C. GIBBS,

General Superintendent.

CHICAGO RELIEF AND AID SOCIETY.

April 1, 1872.

NOTICE.

On Monday, April 1st, the entire work of the Chicago Relief and Aid Society will be consolidated in one Central Office, at Nos. 215 and 217 East Randolph Street, and will be conducted on the same general plan as previous to the fire.

Only the sick, aged, and infirm, and poor widows with dependent children, will be regarded as subjects for relief. There will be no further issue of stoves, furniture, bedding, nor clothing.

No further appropriations will be made for buildings or anything pertaining to improvement of property or payment of ground rent.

Disapprovals cannot be reconsidered.

By order of the Executive Committee.

CHICAGO RELIEF AND AID SOCIETY.

NOTICE TO APPLICANTS.

From present indications the winter is nearly gone, and spring is at hand. Already there is a growing demand for mechanics and laborers of every grade. We intend to close our winter work in these offices as soon as possible, and all who can work must find something to do. This issue of _____ closes your account for the present season. The work of this Society will be conducted hereafter on the same general principles and only to the same extent as before the fire. None but the sick, aged, and infirm need apply. No relief will be given in any case where there is an able-bodied man, woman, or children old enough to work.

CHAPTER IX.

RECEIVING, SORTING, AND STORING SUPPLIES.

IN the matter of receiving and storing, confusion and disorder at the outset were inevitable and unavoidable.

The principal railroad depots were destroyed by the fire, and the three hundred and thirty car loads of goods of all kinds which from the 11th to the 16th of October were so lavishly poured in from all parts of the country and which, coming free of freight charges, were without way-bills or invoices, had necessarily to be unloaded from side tracks at remote points of the town, the packages instantly opened and their contents disposed of, or sent without record or count wherever they were most needed. It was a question then, only of feeding the starving and clothing the naked, and not of regularity of business ; the law of humanity was paramount to the rules of commerce. General Sheridan had early taken possession of two large warehouses, and these, with full complement of workmen and guards, he presently turned over to a committee, Murray Nelson, chairman, to be assisted by General Hardie. This was the first step out of confusion in this department. About the same time the Skating Rink on the West Side, two large stores, a smaller one, and the Church of the Messiah were taken and occupied, partly as storehouses and partly as points of distribution. They were no more than were needed then, for disorder demands space. But order was gradually evolved out of this chaos, as the heterogeneous mass of contributions gave way to regular, though larger, commercial orders, the railroad arrangements were brought back to something of their former facilities, regular and numerous points of distribution were established, and system generally introduced and maintained. In accordance with the principle of concentration adopted in all the departments of the work, as early as it was at all practicable the general warehouses were reduced to two only, the Rink in the West Division of the city and the Church of the Messiah on the South Side.

The latter was continued especially in view of its being the headquarters at the time of the Special Bureau. When this was abandoned the Rink became the sole depot for all the articles, except vegetables, distributed in the various districts, and which were drawn from it by special requisition of the Superintendents as they were needed.

A large frost-proof building was built for the storage of vegetables, and two large cellars were used for the same purpose.

These several warehouses may be said to have constituted the wholesale department of the Relief work, as the distributing districts were the retail establishments. The aim was to manage all with commercial exactness and economy, and notwithstanding the immense difficulties in the way, a reasonable degree of system and success was early achieved. This is deemed a proper place to make acknowledgment of the contributions of the General Government, the amount of which appears in the subjoined statement.

CONSOLIDATED ABSTRACT OF QUARTERMASTER, SUBSISTENCE STORES, AND MONEY.

Donated and Disbursed by the United States Government, through Captain James Gilliss, A. Q. M., U. S. A., and Colonel Robert McFeely, C. S., U. S. A., at Chicago, for the Relief of Sufferers by the Fire.

All but ten (10) of the hospital tents were returned in a damaged condition.

The subsistence stores were distributed to meet the pressing wants of the sufferers for the two or three days after the fire, before donations of food were received sufficient to meet the demand. The amount disbursed on account of pay-roll of employés was for men hired by General Hardie to unload cars containing donations prior to the time the Relief and Aid Society took charge of the receipt and distribution of stores and money.

The water barrels were bought to bring water from the lake to distributing depots while the supply of water for the city was cut off.

CHAPTER X.

TRANSPORTATION.

THE business of transportation was under the direction of a special committee of which C. G. Hammond was appointed chairman. During the early weeks of its labors the work of this committee was necessarily enormous, and the expenditures for transportation heavy.

At the same time these labors were much increased by the perplexing duty of providing passes for the large number of persons who wished to leave Chicago and were without the means of doing so. It was absolutely necessary, though by no means easy, to discriminate among the multitude who asked for passes, as there was danger of giving to undeserving persons and imposing upon the generosity and good nature of the Railroad Companies who had thrown open their roads as a part of the general relief.

At first passes were issued by this Committee which were honored by the different roads; after the immediate pressure of the first few weeks had passed, the Committee only gave recommendations for passes, which were usually accepted by the roads. At a still later period in the work of the Committee an arrangement was made with the superintendents of the different roads by which half fare passes were issued upon the recommendation of the chairman of this Committee, which arrangement still holds good with most of the roads, the recommendation for half fare being signed by the General Superintendent of the Society. It is only now in exceptional cases, however, that applications for passes receive favorable attention except upon the recommendation of the Superintendent of the Employment Bureau, in the case of persons being sent to the country to labor.

A careful record of names of persons and destinations has from the first been kept, and is an interesting voucher of one of the incidents of the Great Fire.

CHAPTER XI.

SHELTER.

THE first immediate necessity to be relieved, of course, was food, and in some measure, clothing. But close following upon it was need of shelter, for it was plain that the thousands who lay upon the ground, on the prairie whither they had fled, in the door-yards and empty lots of the city, must have immediate protection.

The homes left by the fire, were already full of either friends or strangers.

The suburbs of Chicago are comparatively few, and for the most part distant, and only few of the families found immediate shelter in these. Had a like fire occurred in London or Boston, it would have been possible to have sheltered the hundred thousand homeless people in the immediate suburbs, in either of these cities, until definite and adequate temporary arrangements could have been made for them.

The Churches and School-houses which were at first thrown open to those who had no better place of refuge, could of course, be only unsuitable, and at best, temporary resting places.

The exigency was imperative. We were on the verge of the most inclement season of the year, and those familiar with the great severity of our winters, and our exposed situation between the open prairie on the one side and the lake on the other, can understand how the question of shelter pressed upon us. Some rude barracks were, at the outset, put up by the Citizens' Committee, which could only answer for immediate protection from the weather, but such structures, even if well built, were open to grave objections as the homes of forty or fifty thousand people in the winter. So large a number brought into promiscuous and involuntary association, would almost certainly engender disease and promote idleness, disorder, and vice, and be dangerous to themselves and to the neighborhood in which they might be placed. Such buildings could only be put up by sufferance upon land to which the occupants could obtain no title, could have no interest in improving, and from which they would undoubtedly be removed in the spring, if not sooner, by the actual owners. To construct barracks for the houseless, therefore, was only to postpone the solution of the problem for a few months, to find us then with a large class of permanent poor still without homes, and demoralized by a winter of dependence and evil communications. A small number, under stringent police and sanitary rule, might be kept in health and comfort and order in barracks, but the system would be manifestly a bad one for so large a number of people, and particularly for the class who made much the larger proportion of those who were sufferers by the fire. These were mechanics and the better class of laboring people, thrifty, domestic, and respectable, whose skill and labor were indispensable in rebuilding the city, and most of whom had accumulated enough to become the owners of their own homesteads either as proprietors or lessees of the lots. To restore them to these homes would be to raise them at once from depression and anxiety, if not despair, to hope, renewed energy, and comparative prosperity. With all the incentives to industry left them, and with the conscious pride and independence of still living under their own roof-tree, they would thus settle for themselves, and in the best way, the question of title to land, and restore value to their real estate by proving it to be as desirable for occupation as before the fire.

It was decided, therefore, to put in barracks the minimum number who could not otherwise be provided for, and to provide small but comfortable houses for the rest; much the larger proportion who had families, and who had owned or had leases of the lots where they had previously resided. Messrs. T. M. Avery and T. W. Harvey, members of the Executive Committee of this Society, were at once put at the head of a Shelter Committee, and the result of their labors was even more successful and encouraging than the most sanguine had anticipated.

ISOLATED HOUSES.

The Bureau of the Shelter Committee was very thoroughly organized with an efficient corps of clerks and examiners, to whom the claim of the applicant was made for a careful and thorough examination, with all possible checks to detect imposition, while all were listened to with the utmost sympathy and patience. The houses given were of two sizes; one of 20×16 feet for families of more than three persons; the other of 12×16 feet for families of three only. The floor joists were of 2×6 inches timber, covered with a flooring of planed and matched boards; the studding was of 2×4 inches, covered with inch boards and battened on the outside or with planed and matched flooring; the inside walls were lined with thick felt paper; and each house had a double iron chimney, two four-panelled doors, three windows, and a partition to be put up where the occupant pleased.

Afterward many were shingled, plastered, etc.

The establishment was completed in a simple but sufficient way for comfortable living by the addition of a cooking stove and utensils, several chairs, a table, bedstead, bedding, and sufficient crockery for the use of the family; and the total cost of the house when thus furnished was one hundred and twenty-five dollars. The majority of those who received the prepared material for these houses were mechanics enough to put them together for themselves, or had the means to hire builders; but for the large class of widows, infirm, or otherwise helpless persons, the house was built and put in complete readiness for the proposed tenant by the Committee.

The total number of houses built by the Shelter Committee, from October 18, 1871, to May 1, 1873, was 7,983

This provided, at the usual estimate of five to a family, respectable and comfortable homes for from thirty-five to forty thousand persons.

It will be seen by the following table, that of this number, 5,226 houses had been built within a month from the time the Committee began its labors.

The actual rental of these houses may be estimated as worth ten dollars per month, based upon what the Society was then, and in many instances is still paying for similar accommodations to keep people from being turned out of doors.

The cost of these "Shelter Houses," exclusive of furniture, was about one hundred dollars.

The rental therefor for ten months would cover the entire original cost. It must not be understood, however, that this was a rental actually charged and received, for in no case was rent taken from the occupants of these houses.

The stock of lumber destroyed in Chicago by the fire was not less than sixty-five millions of feet, and the supply destroyed in the lumber regions, ready for shipment to this market, was also immense. The price of lumber consequently rapidly enhanced, and by the 26th of October was twenty dollars per thousand. By the wise forethought and activity of the Shelter Committee, this rise in value was anticipated, and all their purchases were made at an average price of sixteen dollars and fifty cents per thousand. They used quite thirty-five millions of feet with this large saving in cost.

THE BARRACKS.

Besides the isolated houses, there were, in different sections of the city, four barracks, in which were lodged one thousand families. They were mainly of the class who had not hitherto lived in houses of their own, but in rooms in tenement houses. Each family in these barracks had two separate rooms to itself, and they were furnished in precisely the same way with the isolated houses. Their occupants were undoubtedly very nearly, if not quite, as comfortable as they were before the fire, and as only one thousand two hundred and fifty people were gathered together in one community, and those were under the constant and careful supervision of medical and police superintendents, their moral and sanitary condition was unquestionably better than that which had heretofore obtained in that class.

This statement is confirmed by the fact that but one death occurred in the barracks during the first month.

These houses were not only built and given outright to the applicants found to be worthy, but were likewise supplied with all necessary furniture.

The table, which is here subjoined, illustrates the kind and extent of this furnishing.

The working method of this Committee will be explained somewhat more fully by the Blanks and Forms used, and which are here inserted.

The number of applicants for shelter was so great that we divided the burnt district into sixteen divisions, and established a depot in each division to receive the applications. The following blank was filled by the clerk in charge of the district office, and when found correct, was sent to the central office, 409 West Washington Street, for approval by the Shelter Committee.

CHAPTER XII.

SPECIAL RELIEF.

THE Special Committee was formed to provide a suitable agency for supplying the necessities of those sufferers by the fire whose needs could not be adequately and properly met by the District Distributing Relief Depots. The great throng of persons who crowded those depots in the earlier periods of the relief work made them unsuitable places for the sick, aged, and infirm, or for those whose previous condition in life unfitted them to endure the exposure and suffering incident to such modes of receiving relief. There were also many cases whose necessities could be adequately provided for only by the payment of money, which was not then intrusted to the District Superintendents.

To meet these necessities the Special Committee was organized. It was appointed by a meeting of the pastors of the various Churches, and the representative officers of the various Benevolent Associations of the city, convened for that purpose, upon the invitation of the Executive Committee of the Relief and Aid Society. Although the selection of the Committee was delegated to the persons above named, in the hope of thereby inducing a closer union and more active participation with the work on the part of the appointing body, the Special Committee so appointed was, from the first, strictly a department of the Executive Board, represented in such Board by its Chairman, and subject to its instructions and control.

The Special Committee, as originally appointed, was composed of the following persons: E. C. Larned, Rev. Laird Collier, Rev. E. P. Goodwin, B. G. Caulfield, Louis Wahl, Geo. R. Chittenden, Mrs. Joseph Medill, Mrs. David A. Gage, Mrs. J. Mason Loomis, and Mrs. J. E. Tyler; of whom E. C. Larned was appointed Chairman, and Rev. Laird Collier, Secretary. Some of the above members resigned, others withdrew from any active participation in the work, and several additions were subsequently made.

On the 13th February, 1872, E. C. Larned resigned and Rev. Laird Collier was appointed Chairman and E. K. Hubbard was chosen Secretary of the Committee; W. E. Doggett, A. Keith, and N. S. Bouton became members of the Committee. The members who continued actively connected with the Committee until the close of its work were Rev. Laird Collier, E. K. Hubbard, A. Keith, W. E. Doggett, Orrington Lunt, and N. S. Bouton.

From the formation of the Committee until the 6th day of December, 1871, its work of Relief included the supplying of clothing, fuel, food, and furniture, as well as money.

In the earlier portion of its work the Committee relied entirely upon the certificates of the pastors of churches, and authorized officers of organized Benevolent Associations, for the evidence that the applicant's condition and needs had been duly investigated, and for a correct statement of the kind and amount of relief required. To facilitate such investigations, suitable blanks were prepared, containing appropriate inquiries respecting the applicant's property, circumstances, losses, and present condition. Experience soon demonstrated that we could not rely with sufficient confidence upon this method of investigation, as affording reliable evidence of the nature and amount of the applicant's needs; and, subsequently, the course was adopted, of sending all applications which were suitably recommended, to the District in which the applicant resided, for the case to be personally investigated and reported upon in writing by one of the official visitors in the employ of the Society.

As soon as the proper arrangements were made authorizing applications for supplies to be made by letter to the District Superintendents, without requiring the personal attendance of the applicant, the necessity for any further action upon this class of applications was obviated, and the Special Committee, in pursuance of instructions to that effect from the Executive Board, ceased to entertain any new applications of this nature after the 10th day of December, 1871.

The whole number of families which were furnished with supplies by this Committee, up to that date, was 1,474, amounting, at the usual average, to about 7,000 persons.

The amounts of supplies issued will be found specified in detail in the tabular statement annexed.

The estimated cost of such supplies amounted to about the sum of $90,000.

The action of the Special Bureau, in the matter of furnishing supplies, met a great and pressing need.

There was a class of sufferers by the fire, consisting of persons before that event in comfortable circumstances, who were suddenly reduced to conditions of the greatest privation and distress. This class of our population were the keenest sufferers of all. They were not accustomed to exposures and hardships which were easily borne by the laboring people, and at the same time the change in their condition and circumstances was greater and more disastrous. They were borne in a single night from homes of comfort and plenty into absolute destitution. Nothing could exceed the misery which they were compelled to undergo; many of these families received aid from the Special Relief Department which was of the greatest benefit to them, and was afforded with a warmth of good-will, and an earnest sympathy and kindness, which served in some degree to relieve the painful experiences necessarily incident to applications for assistance by persons who had previously been independent in their circumstances.

The nature and extent of the work of this Committee in furnishing aid by the payment of money was modified from time to time, as the experience of the special needs of the sufferers by the fire became more enlarged, and the demands upon the funds for affording necessary shelter and supplies of food, fuel, clothing, and furniture were lessened.

At the commencement of its work, under instructions issued to this Committee by the Executive Board, the payment of money was for some time strictly limited to affording aid in paying rent, and in the purchase of sewing machines, and in the relief of pressing necessities occasioned by sickness or some other cause.

On the 29th of December, 1871, the work of this Committee in this field was enlarged by the Executive Board, by virtue of the following resolution :—

“ That the amount of money which the Special Committee be authorized to grant in special cases, without the previous action of the Executive Committee, be two hundred dollars.

“ That the Special Committee are instructed that while the general rule heretofore adopted, forbidding grants of money to be made for the purpose of aiding parties to reëstablish themselves in business, be enforced, so far as relates to affording aid in purchasing stocks of goods or articles for sale, it may be so far modified as to authorize the Special Committee, in their discretion, to aid persons in the purchase of tools, machinery, furniture, fixtures, or professional books, which are necessary for engaging in any business which has a sufficiently assured prospect of providing a support for the applicant and his family.”

A large proportion of the special work of relief consisted in affording aid to destitute sewing women, who lost their machines by the fire, in obtaining sewing machines. By arrangements made with most of the sewing machine companies, persons who were deemed entitled to such aid were allowed a discount of forty per cent, from the regular retail prices of the respective machines.

This Committee advanced to the Sewing Machine Company (in the greater proportion of such cases) the sum of twenty dollars towards such purchase, leaving the applicant to pay the remainder of the price, which, on a seventy (70) dollar machine, amounted to twenty-two dollars, for the payment of which a liberal credit was granted by the companies.

In cases of special destitution, or where the peculiar circumstances of the applicant or her family were such as to render it expedient, the whole price of the machine, less the agreed discount, was paid.

By a subsequent arrangement with the Singer, Wheeler & Wilson, and Howe companies, a discount of fifty per cent. was allowed on their machines in all cases where the Committee should advance, in cash, one half of the retail price of the machine.

The applicant in every case designated in the application the kind of machine desired.

This form of relief was, in the opinion of the Committee, productive of great good. It rendered a large number of worthy and industrious sewing women, whose means of subsistence had been wholly destroyed by the fire, at once self-supporting.

In addition to giving aid in the purchase of sewing machines, money was granted in various amounts, to meet the respective needs of applicants, in aid of their reëstablishment in some kind of business or mechanical employment which afforded a fair promise of yielding a support to the applicant and his family. The aid thus given was strictly limited to the purposes specified in the foregoing resolution of the Executive Committee.

The relief effected in this department of its work was very varied. Carpenters, masons, tinnern, bookbinders, locksmiths, tailors, shoemakers, and workers in almost every branch of mechanical industry, were supplied with tools; machinery of various kinds was furnished; surgeons, dentists, and engineers were supplied with the instruments of their respective callings. Many persons were aided with furniture and means to open boarding-houses.

The aim of the Committee in this class of cases was, by aiding the applicant with the needful tools and appliances for prosecuting some kind of business or industrial pursuit to enable him, at the earliest practicable period, to obtain a support, and relieve him from the necessity of any further application for assistance.

The relief thus afforded extended to a class in our community who, while they were the severest sufferers by the fire, had hitherto received less than any other from the relief funds.

Money which simply placed in the applicant's possession the means of earning his own support, could be received without humiliation and without injury; and the machinery and appliances which were thus purchased were not lost, but constituted lasting additions to the productive industry of the community.

NOTICE TO APPLICANTS FOR MONEY.

1. Every application for relief by payment of money must in addition to answering the questions upon the printed blanks, give a brief statement in writing, showing the special grounds which make such money relief necessary, and must be certified by a clergyman or the proper officer of an organized benevolent society.

2. No application for money will be entertained from any person who has received relief from the District Depots, unless such applicant shall bring a letter signed by the Superintendent of his District, and approved by the General Superintendent, recommending such application.

3. Except in cases of emergency requiring immediate action, no application for the payment of money will be acted upon until the condition and needs of the applicant have been investigated by a visitor.

Applications for sewing machines (unless certified by a member of this Committee or by the Executive Committee) will not be acted upon until they have been referred to the District Superintendent for investigation and report.

4. Every applicant will be notified by mail whether his application has been approved or rejected, and until he receives such notice it will not be necessary for him to make any further call upon the Committee.

COMMITTEE OF SPECIAL RELIEF.

CHURCH OF THE MESSIAH, Corner Wabash Avenue and Hubbard Court.

TO PASTORS AND REPRESENTATIVES OF BENEVOLENT ASSOCIATIONS:—

To correct any misapprehensions that may exist respecting the Department of Special Relief, the Committee having such relief in charge desire to call attention to the following facts:—

1. It is not designed that this department shall supersede, supplement, or in anywise interfere with the relief work of the general Society. It is meant exclusively to provide for those peculiar and delicate cases which it is not possible to meet satisfactorily in the ordinary way.

2. All pastors of churches, of whatever name, and all accredited representatives of relief organizations of every form, are persons duly authorized to indorse applications, and their indorsement will in all cases be satisfactory guaranty of the worthiness of the applicant. But the Committee particularly request, as a means of greatly facilitating their arduous work, that all applications, so far as possible, be made through these channels. And they further urge that pastors of churches appoint visitors, whose duty it shall be to investigate the cases of those who apply, and to search out such needy and deserving persons as from motives of delicacy will not be likely to make their wants known.

3. All applications should be made in writing, and should state specifically the place of residence before and since the fire, the nature and extent of the losses suffered, and the particular articles or form of aid desired. Ministers and others can have blanks to keep on hand for this purpose by applying to the Committee.

4. The headquarters of the Committee, and their Depot of Supplies, are at the Church of the Messiah, corner Wabash Avenue and Hubbard Court, where all applications, when duly indorsed, should be presented. So far as may be possible, these will be responded to at once, so that parties may take their supplies with them. In all other cases the articles will be delivered at the place named by the applicant.

To avoid misapprehension as to the powers of the Committee, it is desirable to state that no application for money to build up any form of business destroyed by the fire can be entertained, and that, as a general rule, relief by payment of money is only extended in a few exceptional cases.

CHAPTER XIII.

SICK, SANITARY, AND HOSPITAL MEASURES.

IMMEDIATELY after the fire, the Board of Health began to gather the sick and injured who could not find refuge in private families, into churches and school-houses where they were tenderly cared for by physicians and citizens, who very generally tendered their services. In order that there might be as little delay as possible, the sanitary policemen were authorized by the Mayor to impress teams for the transportation of the sick from the prairies and vacant lots whither they had been driven by the flames. At the headquarters of the Citizen's Committee, corner of West Washington and Ann streets, Drs. Rauch and Johnson, of the Board of Health, and Dr. J. E. Gilman of the Citizen's Committee were constantly engaged in assigning physicians and providing medicines and stores for the churches and other buildings used as temporary hospitals.

When the Relief and Aid Society took charge of the General Relief work in accordance with the proclamation of the Mayor, it assigned to Dr. H. A. Johnson the special duty of organizing and directing this department, with authority to associate with himself such members of the medical profession as he should think best. The following gentlemen comprised the Committee as finally constituted: Dr. H. A. Johnson, chairman, and Drs. B. McVickar, R. Ludlam, M. J. Asche, J. H. Rauch, M. Manheimer, Ernst Schmidt, B. C. Miller, and Rev. H. N. Powers. Dr. J. E. Gilman was appointed secretary.

For several weeks the committee held daily meetings, and weekly meetings were held during the entire winter.

VISITATION.

The city was divided into districts and sub-districts, with the same boundaries and the same offices as those of the Superintendents of Distribution.

To each of these divisions a Medical Superintendent and a sufficient number of visiting physicians were appointed. Their duties were defined in the following circular : —

TO MEDICAL OFFICERS.

First. Each visiting physician will establish an office in connection with the depot of distribution in his district.

Second. He will, at a specified hour, morning and evening, visit the office and answer such calls as may be left by the Superintendent of Distribution, the visitors, and the Medical Superintendent of the district.

Third. He will supply himself with a case and medicines for the use of those only who are the proper subjects of relief by this Society.

Fourth. He will affix to each prescription that he may send to the dispensing chemist, his signature, with a statement that this prescription is on account of the Chicago Relief and Aid Society.

Fifth. He will especially examine into the sanitary condition of his district, the quantity and quality of food, clothing, dwellings, etc., and all matters having a bearing upon public or private health.

Sixth. He will report daily to the Medical Superintendent of his district, the name, age, sex, and nativity of each patient, with the name of the disease, result of treatment, number of visits to each patient, and such other information as the Medical Superintendent may, from time to time, require.

Seventh. Each Medical Superintendent will have the immediate direction of the medical service and sanitary interest of his district, and will be held responsible for the faithful performance of this work. He will assign visiting physicians to sub-districts, and require of them daily reports of their work. These reports he will condense and present weekly to the Committee. He will admit patients to hospital, and in cases of emergency, visit patients at their homes.

The General Superintendent directed visitors to report all cases coming to their knowledge requiring medical attendance, and the person in charge of each office had such reports at all times in readiness for the medical officer of the district, when he called. All possible aid was given the medical officer of the district, and he was allowed free access to the office and books of the Society at all times.

MEDICAL DISPENSARIES.

In addition to this provision for the visitation of the sick at their homes, dispensaries were established at convenient points, where such patients as were able to apply in person for advice were treated, and where medicines were dispensed upon the prescriptions of any physician certifying that his services in the case were gratuitous. In the North Division of the city there was only one of these institutions; in the West Division there were three, and in the South Division two. Medicines were also dispensed, and out-patients treated at all of the hospitals.

The physicians to these dispensaries were men of approved character and professional standing.

HOSPITALS.

For the relief of such patients as could not safely be treated in their homes or quarters, and who could not apply at a dispensary, hospital accommodations were provided. Fortunately the principal hospitals of the city were in the unburned district. Arrangements were made with all these institutions by which patients were received on account of this Society, without charge for medical and surgical attendance, nursing and general care; the Society furnishing only medicines, rations, and furniture for such relief patients as were received on its account. These hospitals were as follows : —

The Providence Hospital, located just beyond the northern limits of the city. The Women's and Children's Hospital, formerly located on North State Street, but after the fire at No. 598 West Adams Street. This was mainly a lying-in-hospital. The Chicago Eye and Ear Infirmary, under the care of Dr. E. L. Holmes, before the fire on Pierson Street in the North Division, now at 579 West Adams Street. St. Luke's Hospital, on Indiana Avenue between Fourteenth and Sixteenth streets. The Hahnemann Hospital, on Cottage Grove Avenue near Twenty-ninth Street. Mercy Hospital, corner of Calumet Avenue and Twenty-sixth Street, and the County Hospital, on Arnold Street, near Eighteenth Street.

In addition to these accommodations, hospitals were constructed in connection with the barracks in the West and North Divisions of the city. Patients were admitted to hospitals upon the order of the medical officers of the Chicago Relief and Aid Society, the Sanitary Superintendent of the Board of Health, and the County Physician.

Supplies to hospitals and dispensaries were issued upon requisitions indorsed by the chief medical officer of the institution, and approved by the Chairman of the Committee on Sick, Sanitary, and Hospital Measures.

The dispensaries and hospitals reported daily to the chairman of this committee the number of patients treated, number of deaths, number of recoveries, and as often as required, the names of relief patients under treatment. With the daily reports from the visiting physicians and these reports from hospitals and dispensaries, the Committee was able to give at any time the name and address, age, sex, nationality, disease, and the result of treatment of every patient under its care.

BURIALS.

Arrangements were made with the county authorities by which, at a small cost to the Relief Society, all who died while under the care of this department were furnished a coffin and hearse to any of the cemeteries in the vicinity of the city.

HOW MEDICAL RELIEF WAS OBTAINED.

To obtain medical relief, it was only necessary to make application to some one of the Superintendents of Distribution, to a Visitor of that bureau, or to a Medical Superintendent.

SANITARY REGULATIONS AND CONDITION.

The sanitary questions connected with houses and barracks were carefully considered, and the suggestions of this Committee were adopted by the Committee on Shelter. The barracks were subject to a careful daily inspection by sanitary officers, and regulations best calculated to maintain health were rigidly enforced. The statistics indicate that these quarters were probably more healthy than those occupied by the same class of tenants before the fire. Up to November 30, only one death had occurred among a population of five thousand in barracks.

SMALL-POX.

For four years our city had experienced a singular immunity from small-pox. We could hope to maintain this only by the same measures hitherto used, namely, vaccination and revaccination. In order to accomplish this it was found necessary to make satisfactory vaccination a condition upon which supplies were issued. The blanks published with this report explain sufficiently the mode of doing the work. About sixty-four thousand persons were vaccinated by the officers of the Society.

During the winter of 1871-72 small-pox was epidemic throughout the country. Many of the smaller as well as larger cities suffered severely from it. The mortality in Chicago from this cause during the whole winter was low. Of the comparatively few cases that did occur many were brought in from the country, while many more were emigrants. Thirty of these were from the ill-fated steamer Allemania, arriving at New York with the disease on board. It seems hardly possible to exaggerate the disaster that in all human probability was averted by this systematic and thoroughly executed plan of the Committee. The results of about thirty thousand vaccinations and revaccinations will be found in the tables published herewith.

TYPHOID FEVER.

Soon after the fire in the more densely crowded portions of the city, where, in many instances, several families were compelled to occupy one small badly ventilated house, typhoid fever made its appearance. These districts were carefully inspected, and the Shelter Committee provided other quarters whenever deemed necessary by the medical officers. The disease did not spread. It disappeared, as usual, with the advance of winter.

CHANGE IN PLAN OF WORK.

The Relief and Aid Society had appropriated nearly $200,000 for the various hospitals of the city on condition that these hospitals should, upon the order of the Society, receive, care for, and provide for all the medical and surgical wants of one patient for each $1,000 appropriated. In other words the appropriation constituted an endowment of about two hundred beds, subject to the control of the Relief Society. About the 1st of February, 1872, the issue of rations to hospitals was therefore discontinued and, to such sick as needed hospital care, permits, or orders were given upon which they were admitted into these institutions. The plan of visitation was materially modified. The district medical officers were discontinued and the work was done by the dispensaries, the Society furnishing medicines and meeting such incidental expenses as were necessary for their support. In addition to the aid given to the dispensaries proper, a small monthly salary was paid to those physicians who were employed by the dispensaries in visiting patients at their homes. The prescribing physicians at the dispensaries received no compensation whatever. On the 15th of March, 1872, Dr. John Reid, who had served as medical superintendent of the First District, was appointed General Medical Superintendent, and continued to perform the duties of that office till May 1st, 1873. The reports from the dispensaries and hospitals were made regularly, and the general record of this department of the Society's work maintained with uniformity till May 1st, 1873.

AUXILIARY AID.

On the 25th of November, 1871, the following circular was prepared and issued, earnestly inviting the coöperation of the citizens in providing for the sick proper nourishment, delicacies, and such care as could not be given by the physician.

MEDICAL RELIEF.

The Sick, Sanitary, and Hospital Committee of the Chicago Relief and Aid Society desire to secure the personal coöperation of benevolent citizens in the important and responsible work that comes under their supervision. The visiting and dispensing Physicians are unable, from the nature of their engagements, to provide in all cases such treatment and attentions as would best conduce to the welfare of their patients. Not seldom the sick are in need of some article of diet or simple luxury, which if opportunity furnished, would not only be grateful to the sufferer, but instrumental in his recovery. It is believed that there are among us many persons of benevolent character and valuable sanitary experience who would be willing to give some personal attention to these cases, if the way could be pointed out to them, and if they could be assured that their services would be welcomed by the physicians in charge.

The Committee wish to inform all such persons that their ministrations to the sick depending upon the Relief and Aid Society, in their respective neighborhoods, is sincerely desired and would be gratefully accepted. Pastors, Churches, and Charitable Societies are requested to organize visitors in localities in which they are situated for efficient aid in this particular. Sometimes such immediate provision for the sick is needed as cannot be procured in time through the ordinary channels of relief, which might be speedily furnished in the way that is proposed. Where the expense attending such ministrations is of a kind to be at all burden some to visitors it will be paid out of the funds of the Society. What is aimed at is such an alert, kind, and intelligent care of the sick as shall be most promotive of their speedy convalescence. Such as desire are respectfully requested to put themselves in communication with the Medical Superintendents and Medical Officers of this Committee, who may be found at the Depot of Distribution.

HORATIO N. POWERS, }
R. LUDLAM. } Special Committee.

In response to this circular the "Ladies Aid Society" and many individuals not connected with any organization, rendered, under the direction of the medical officers, timely and valuable services. In every case a record was made and a report rendered of the kind and amount of aid supplied. The tables herewith published, with few exceptions, perhaps sufficiently explain themselves. The nomenclature of disease adopted by the physicians was not found to be in all respects the same, but it is believed that the results are not materially affected by that fact. Wherever a doubt existed as to the meaning of the reporter, a personal inquiry was addressed to him upon the subject and the assignment of the case determined by his reply. It will be seen that some terms are used in a general sense. Diphtheria, for instance, embraces not only diphtheritic inflammation of the fauces, but also the same form of disease of the larynx. Without discussing the propriety of the grouping of these two forms of the disease under the same name, it has seemed almost a necessity, as croup, diphtheritic croup, membranous croup, and diphtheria, have been used by different reporters apparently for the designation of the same disease. On the contrary, spasmodic croup or false croup has been placed under the general term of laryngitis.

The physicians reporting these cases were without exception men of thorough medical education, many of them of large experience in hospital and private practice and there is every reason to rely upon the accuracy of their diagnosis. The statistics of mortality are absolutely accurate, as a single death could not have escaped the knowledge of the Department, even though the patient had been transferred before the termination of the case to the care of a physician not connected with the Society. No burial could take place without a registry or permit from the Board of Health, and the mortuary record of the Society was constantly compared with the official registration.

It is believed that these tables contain information not readily accessible in any other form. They present a picture of the sanitary condition and vital force of about one hundred thousand of our citizens during the year 1872,—not only the deaths but the diseases and the mortality from each disease at different ages and in the two sexes.

This represents much more nearly the work of physicians in private practice than either the statistics of hospitals or dispensaries, or of army practice, and so far as is known to the chairman of the Committee furnishes the largest collected and tabulated record of the kind in existence. The meteorological record is taken from the official register of the Board of Health of the city of Chicago. The direction and force of the wind is an approximation arrived at by taking the daily record for the first half of the month and giving only the average for the period, and repeating the same process for the last half.

The daily reports contain, besides the information here given, the nationality and as far as possible the occupation of each patient. These reports are also complete for the whole period from October 16th, 1871, to May 1st, 1873, covering 89,724 cases.

The blanks used by the Committee need no explanation.

TABULAR STATEMENT OF 26,649 VACCINATIONS AND REVACCINATIONS, AT DIFFERENT PERIODS OF LIFE, IN WHICH THE RESULTS WERE CAREFULLY OBSERVED AND RECORDED BY PHYSICIANS OF THE RELIEF AND AID SOCIETY, DURING THE WINTER OF 1871 AND 1872.

The number of cases of small-pox occurring after recent or remote successful vaccinations and revaccinations was 726. General average time of occurrence after a first successful vaccination year: second successful vaccination, eleven and five sixths years; third successful vaccination, fifteen and three fourths years. In addition to these figures, we have records of 4,197 cases which have been excluded, on the ground of incomplete, and which, if added, would show a total of 5080,746 vaccinations. The number of cases of small-pox occurring after recent or remote unsuccessful vaccinations and revaccinations was 658. The statistics of small-pox include cases that occurred previous to the winter of 1871-1872, and of which the evidence was satisfactory to the observers.

REMARKS. Among the Swedes, in one case, there were three good scars on each arm; subsequently the patient had small-pox severely, in two other cases, after successful vaccination, small-pox occurred. Among the English, three cases had small-pox and were afterward successfully vaccinated. Among the Norwegians, five cases of small-pox occurred after successful vaccination, of which, one case was fatal. Among the Irish, nineteen cases were successfully vaccinated after they had had small-pox, and fifty-five cases had small-pox after successful vaccination. Among the Germans, one case of small-pox after second unsuccessful vaccination, and twenty-three cases after successful vaccination. One case had small-pox at seven years, and a successful vaccination occurred afterward between ten and twenty years. Among the Americans, one adult had been several times unsuccessfully vaccinated, and had small-pox. Another case, under five years, was successfully vaccinated, and at same time had small-pox.

EMPLOYMENT BUREAU.

AT no time since the fire has there been lack of employment, particularly of unskilled labor; nevertheless it was thought prudent to establish an Employment Bureau in connection with the general work.

The usefulness of this department has increased almost daily from the time of its commencement, as will appear in the Tables indicating its work.

An Employment Committee, N. K. Fairbank, Chairman, was appointed and began systematically its labors on the 16th of October, 1871, with headquarters in a temporary building in the Court-house yard. This was a sort of labor exchange in the very heart of the burnt district, where those wanting mechanics or laborers could find them, and where those in need of work were provided with it. The Superintendents at all the points of distribution were instructed to send every able-bodied man or boy who applied to them for aid to the Bureau of the Employment Committee, and the ticket he took became a certificate of character. If labor was found for him — as was almost invariably the case — he surrendered the ticket and it was returned to the Superintendent who issued it. If the ticket was not presented at the Employment Bureau, and not returned, therefore, to the Superintendent, it was presumptive evidence that the bearer preferred to eat the bread of idleness rather than work for his own subsistence, and if he again presented himself at the distributing station, his claim for relief was rejected. If, having obtained work — of which the returned ticket was evidence — he asked again for relief, the proper inquiry decided whether his labor was not sufficient to sustain himself and his family, if he had one, or whether he had asked for bounty of which he was not in need. This check upon imposition served its purpose admirably, though it was no more than common justice to say that to shirk work and live upon charity by preference was the exception and not the rule among the laboring people of Chicago.

Most of the mechanics who applied at the Employment Bureau for work were in want of tools, without which they could do nothing at their trades. This want the Committee supplied, and by giving the applicant from ten to twenty dollars' worth of tools he was at once made self-supporting, and ceased to be dependent upon the Relief Society. A large number of carpenters were thus effectively and permanently helped, as the demand for their labor was greater than for that of any other class. Brick layers, gas fitters, shoemakers, and other mechanics were also aided in the same way. The Bureau did not undertake to find employment for women, but turned that class over to other organizations which have hitherto made its care their special business. Seamstresses were given abundant employment by the Ladies' Relief Society, the Ladies' Christian Union, the Womans' Aid Society, and other kindred institutions, and were otherwise cared for by the Bureau of Special Relief. Women seeking other kinds of employment were left under the direction of the societies above mentioned, which in this branch of the work were valuable coadjutors of the Relief and Aid Society.

The Bureau is still a useful branch of the Relief Society, and is conducted upon the same general principles as when first set in operation, though modified in the extent of its work.

CHAPTER XV.

A. T. STEWART FUND.

NEW YORK, October 11, 1871.

HON. R. B. MASON, Mayor, Chicago, Ill. : —

My dear Sir, — Last evening I sent you a telegram authorizing you to draw on me for fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) to be distributed by you, in conjunction with my much esteemed friends Messrs. Field and Leiter, and Mr. Jno. V. Farwell, among the needy sufferers by the late terrible conflagration which has visited your city.

I further stated that, if desired, I would expend the amount in purchasing and forwarding such articles of necessity as might be designated, should they, in your united opinion, be preferable to the money.

It is my desire that this fund shall be wholly under the joint charge of yourself and the friends I have named, believing that it will through your united action, be so distributed as to assist those needy sufferers whom you know to be worthy and entitled to help.

It is, however, my special wish that it shall be mainly devoted to the aiding of women who are dependent for support upon their own exertions, and also widows and children without means or protectors to provide for them.

Allow me through you, to express to the people of Chicago, my sincere and heartfelt sympathy in their great misfortune.

Sincerely your friend,

ALEX. T. STEWART.

The Relief and Aid Society on the 20th of October, 1871, added to the gentlemen named in the communication of Mr. Stewart, Henry W. King and N. S. Bouton, who constituted the A. T. Stewart Fund Committee.

This Committee failed to find a person who would undertake the distribution of the Fund till about the 15th of November following, when N. S. Bouton consented to distribute the Fund according to the expressed wish of the generous donor.

The various records of the several distributing districts were examined, to ascertain approximately the number of applicants of the classes designated that might be reasonably expected to apply for aid from this Fund.

It was thus ascertained that the percentage of widows and single women dependent upon their own exertions for support who had been burned out was about thirty-four per cent.

The applications at first were laid before the Committee in order that some rule of limitation as to the amount to be given to the individual applicant might be established. Such applicants were required to give name, former and present residence, amount of losses by the fire, and what aid, if any, had been received from other sources.

The first action of the Committee fixed one hundred dollars ($100) as the maximum to be given in any one case, which amount was afterwards increased to two hundred dollars ($200).

In the month of March, 1872, the Executive Committee of the Relief and Aid Society directed the continuation of disbursements to the same classes and by the same Committee, till the total expenditures amounted to ninety-five thousand one hundred dollars ($95,100).

CHAPTER XVI.

CHARITABLE INSTITUTIONS.

THE support which had hitherto been given to the permanent Charitable Institutions of the city, had been swallowed up in the greater calamity which had thrown fully one half of our people temporarily upon the charity of the world. But while their ordinary resources were thus taken away, the necessity for help for the particular classes under their care, was greater than ever.

The Relief Society would have failed in a complete discharge of the duties imposed upon it by the trust put into its hands if it had declined to recognize the claims of these special charities.

On the 20th of October, 1871, the following named persons were appointed a Committee on Charitable Institutions: N. S. Bouton, Henry W. King, R. B. Mason, Marshall Field, and J. V. Farwell.

To this Committee were afterwards added C. G. Hammond and Dr. H. A. Johnson.

In the distress of these Institutions they applied to this Society soon after the Fire, for such temporary aid as would enable them to continue their work. A large number were burned out, and all were cut off from their usual channels of support. The Society at once provided temporary shelter, beds, and blankets, for such as had their buildings destroyed, and for all such Institutions, supplies of food and fuel. Upon the organization of the Committee on Aid to Charitable and Benevolent Institutions, all these were visited, their condition carefully examined into, and excepting the hospitals, a monthly allowance of money was paid them in lieu of general supplies.

This allowance was made to all alike, based upon the number of inmates of each, and the expenses for the previous year. The Hospitals being filled mainly by those suffering directly from injuries and sicknesses as the result of the Fire, were under the especial charge of the Committee on Sick and Hospitals.

The Institutions receiving a monthly allowance which was continued for six months were as follows : —

- St. Joseph's Orphan Asylum, $300 for six months.
- Half Orphan Nursery and Asylum, $400 for six months.
- Home for the Friendless, $200 for six months.
- Protestant Orphan Asylum, $400 for six months.
- House of the Good Shepherd, $150 for six months.
- The Foundlings' Home, $150 for six months.
- The Old Ladies' Home, $175 for six months.

An appropriation of $125 per month was made to Uhlich's Orphan Asylum for three months.

The Society felt it important early to take steps to place all of these Institutions, together with the Hospitals, upon a more permanent basis. This was plainly in the line of their duty, as most of these Institutions were heavy losers by the Fire, and for years to come their usual resources would be largely diminished and in instances their usefulness ended. It was also deemed the part of economy, by the Society, as these Institutions, if fostered thus promptly, would permanently relieve the Society of the direct care and responsibility of a large number of homeless and destitute, aged and infirm persons.

The Committee therefore issued a circular, addressed to these various Institutions, asking information as follows : —

On the 20th of March, 1872, the Executive Committee passed the following resolutions, which were made a condition to the giving of funds for the purposes herein indicated.

RESOLUTIONS OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

1. That any appropriation of money by this Society for the aid of Charitable Institutions be made upon condition that the managers of such Institutions, in the admission of applicants to the benefits of the same, shall not make any discrimination on account of race, nationality, or religious belief.

2. That in case of Hospitals it shall be agreed that every one thousand dollars given, shall be a perpetual endowment of one bed with necessary medical attendance and care for such patient as might in the future be sent to them by the Chicago Relief and Aid Society.

Upon the return of the circulars issued with the information asked, the Committee again visited all the Hospitals and Charitable Institutions, and made their recommendations to the Executive Committee for appropriations.

These recommendations were approved with little alteration, subject to the conditions embodied in the above resolutions.

The appropriations fixed upon by the Executive Committee, will appear in the subjoined abstract of appropriations by the Committee on Charitable Institutions. Appropriations have also been made to the Western

Seaman's Friend Society of	$8,000.00

Under an arrangement by which the above Societies provide annually stipulated assistance to transient, needy persons.

During the winter and spring application was made in behalf of a considerable number of aged and infirm persons, who prior to the Fire had been in comfortable circumstances; but who were now destitute and dependent, and who looked to the Society for aid. To meet the wants of this class a fund of $50,000 was set apart with which to provide a permanent home for aged people. The Old Ladies Home, a chartered Institution, of limited capacity and resources, surrendered its charter which restricted it to the care of women only, and organized anew, under the general laws of the State of Illinois.

The new Institution is known as The Old People's Home, and has entered into a contract with the Relief and Aid Society by which it will keep one inmate for every twenty-five hundred dollars paid to the Institution and further that it will make no discrimination in the admission of applicants to the benefit of the same, on account of sex, race, nationality, or religious belief. Other changes and provisions have been made in the management of the Institution, by which the objects of the Relief and Aid Society have been attained, namely : providing a home for old men and old women sixty years of age and upwards, who have not been public paupers, and who ought not to be treated as such, and who are pecuniarily unable to provide for themselves. This sum of fifty thousand dollars has been appropriated to this new Institution.
